Big Sensation In Dynamite Plot

MARRIED ONE MAN AND LOVED ANOTHER

Katrina Melcho the Cause of Exciting Time at Middlesex
Street Station Today

Nestor Corambelis and Argeris Georgiou, each claiming Katrina Melcho as his wife, created quite a sensation at the Middlesex street station this morning, when the two latter stepped off the Fall River train at the station. Patrolman William O'Brien was attracted to the scene and while he was inquiring into the cause of the trouble Sergeant Hugh McGuire put in an appearance and it was decided to make the trio go to the police station to explain the difficulty. Later the matter was referred to the clerk of the police court and after considerable questioning with the assistance of interpreters it was practically decided that it was a matter for the immigration officers and not the police to iron out.

According to the story told by the two men and the woman, Corambelis married the woman in Greece four years ago and one child was the result of the union. Three years ago Corambelis came to this country in order to secure work and provide a home here. He sent money to his wife every month and had been over here but a short time when he learned that his child had died. He still continued to send money to his wife, however.

Shortly after Corambelis came to this country Georgiou fell in love with the woman, and as much as she returned to her, they met frequently despite the fact that Georgiou had a wife and child living in Greece. A few weeks ago Georgiou, despite his wife and child and with the Melcho woman secured passage to this country and arrived in New York last night.

GREAT DAY AT O. M. I. CAMP

Humphrey O'Sullivan

the Guest of
Honor

The camp of the O. M. I. cadets is meeting with great success at every turn and is an object of interest to a great many who visit the place each afternoon.

A large number of sightseers made Milford's grave their destination yesterday afternoon and evening and were royally entertained by the cadets. Early in the afternoon a 100 yard race was run for the champion of Lowell, the contestants being Joe Woods of Centralville and Cecil Woods. Woods was the victor and was presented with a solid silver trophy cup which was

THREE SECRET INDICTMENTS RETURNED LIVES IN DANGER BY SPECIAL SUFFOLK COUNTY GRAND JURY TODAY

REBELS WILL KILL

Americans After September 15,
Unless President Madero
Decides to Resign

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Two secret indictments were returned today by the Suffolk county grand jury through the alleged conspiracy to distribute dynamite in Lawrence during the textile strike there last winter. One indictment contained the name of one man, while the other named three men.

Dennis J. Collins of Cambridge was arrested after testifying before the grand jury for about ten minutes this morning.

The single indictment was returned against Collins, who was charged with unlawfully transporting dynamite on Jan. 29 last. Collins was arrested on a bench warrant issued by Judge Pratt and was held in $1500 for trial. It was said that Collins, who is a dandy, is a friend of John J. Green, the Lawrence undertaker, fined $500 last spring for concealing dynamite in mill operatives' houses.

Unable to secure bail, Collins was removed to the Suffolk county jail. It was stated that he would appear in the superior court next Tuesday at which time the three other defendants were expected to be arraigned.

District Attorney Pitman, who obtained the facts personally on which he based the charges he made before the grand jury, attacked District Attorney Henry C. Atwell and the Superior court for allowing John J. Green, convicted for planting the dynamite in Lawrence, to get off with a $500 fine.

Green was convicted of planting the dynamite and fined $500.

Pitman, thinking this closed the dynamite incident, unwittingly told the conspiracy to District Attorney Peter.

Summoned before the grand jury, where he would be called upon to betray his friends, Pitman committed suicide Tuesday morning.

Ernest W. Pitman, the Amesbury mill builder, and three other men, it is alleged, met in Boston and conceived the idea of planting dynamite in Lawrence and then charge that the strikers did it.

Pitman was selected to procure the dynamite. He got it from a quarryman at Quincy, it is thought.

John J. Green, Lawrence undertaker and member of the school board, planted the dynamite in three places, where it was found. Green informed the police where to find it, saying he had been "tipped off" by a letter.

Green was convicted of planting the dynamite and fined $500.

Pitman, thinking this closed the dynamite incident, unwittingly told the conspiracy to District Attorney Peter.

Summoned before the grand jury, where he would be called upon to betray his friends, Pitman committed suicide Tuesday morning.

Deaths in Baby Land:

The local board of health has made a study of the deaths among babies of the age of one year and younger during the months of June and July of this year, from gastro-intestinal diseases, which shows that there is a decrease of 34 per cent with the same months of last year, and the following comparative statement has been given relative to this matter:

June, 1912 1911
Cholera infantum ..... 3 7
Other gastro-intestinal diseases 8 11
Total ..... 11 14

The maximum average daily temperature for the month of June was 72 degrees, which was two degrees higher than it was June last year.

Taking the two months together and comparing them with the same months of last year, the figures are as follows:

Total deaths of babies of one year and younger from

July 1912 1911
Cholera infantum ..... 6 48
Other gastro-intestinal diseases 8 13

Total ..... 11 63

The maximum average daily temperature for the month of July was 83 degrees, which was 4 degrees lower than it was July of last year.

Taking the two months together and comparing them with the same months of last year, the figures are as follows:

Total deaths of babies of one year and younger from

1912 1911
All gastro-intestinal diseases 45 103
Cholera infantum ..... 9 23

This shows a decrease of 36 per cent, this year in the total number of deaths from gastro-intestinal diseases, and a decrease of 38 per cent in the number of deaths from cholera infantum.

Lowell with its decrease of 34 per cent in the number of deaths of babies of the age of one year and younger from gastro-intestinal diseases during the months of June and July of this year compares very favorably with the following cities:

Fall River, 38 per cent; decrease, Boston, 30 per cent; New York, 18 per cent; New Bedford, 8 per cent.

Labor Day Concerts:

The mayor has decided to hold two public band concerts on Labor day, weather permitting. The first will be held in the afternoon at 3 o'clock on Vernon park, Centralville, while the second will be given at 8 p.m. on Fort Hill park.

Poor Kind of Joke:

Dr. J. H. Sparks, who is in charge of the ambulance service, called on Mayor O'Donnell this morning and complained that the ambulances were the topic of mean jokes on the part of well known citizens and said that something had to be done to avoid wild goose chases as is often given his employees on the ambulances, and to show that he meant business he related to the mayor how the ambulance was called to 1498 Gorham street near the Chelmsford line yesterday afternoon. The horse was rushed there and when the wagon reached that number, the driver was told that there was no one injured or sick in that vicinity.

Dr. Sparks, who was not at all pleased when he learned that the call was a false alarm, did a little detective work and found that the call had been sent in by a former member of the city government and a well known business man. He reported the matter to the mayor and said that for $2500 he would not be the butt of a practical joke, for he said: "This has been going

More Building Permits

The following permits were granted today from the lands and buildings office: Michael Sullivan, 33 White street, a two-room addition, the approximate cost being $200.

Thomas Wardell, 513 Westford, the erection of a garage at a cost of $400.

Jean W. Hunt, rear 111 Inland street, erection of a garage at a cost of $100.

C. E. Clancy, 57 Gorham avenue, raising of cottage and building of terrace, together with the "regards," many of whom do not participate in the holiday, but who make it a rule not to let business interfere with baseball, filled the bleachers and grand stand this afternoon.

The biggest crowd of the season filled every available space on the grounds and the entire attendance numbered about 1000, including a large number of Lawrence routers.

Fifth Inning

Kennedy was thrown out. Dee to McGinnis. Lynch walked and stole second. McGinnis singled to right field and DeGroot came home nuking the first run of the game. Miller hit to Keating who threw to second in an attempt to get McGinnis, but he was late and both were safe. Boutelle hit to Ulrich who snipped the ball to Carlstrom and nuked Miller and then a double was executed by Carlstrom to Slattery and McGinnis both struck out.

Dee swatted the atmosphere and Lavigne flied out to Carlstrom. Pfeifer went out on his drive to Carlstrom. Score: Lowell 6, Lawrence 6.

BARES GERMANY'S PLAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Unless the United States government steps forward and takes over from Denmark the little island of St. Thomas, in the Dutch West Indies, Germany

—through the Tansu mercantile trust—will secure control of the most important coaling port in the Caribbean.

Nels Gron, noted Danish-American politician, writer and traveler, made the foregoing statement on his arrival here yesterday aboard the steamer C. F. Tieton.

"Germany has no coaling station for its merchant marine anywhere near Panama," said Mr. Gron. "The Danish corporation, to whom was given the rights of the harbor, has improved it by deepening the channel, adding new wharves and building a modern port. Ships of 15,000 tons can already dock with safety and present plans call for the expenditure of $20,000,000 in further improvements.

"Negotiations for the controlling interest in this corporation by German merchants are already nearing completion. Issues vital to the permanent control of the eastern end of the Panama canal are at stake."

"The passage of the Monroe Doctrine makes the case of St. Thomas of timely interest," concluded Mr. Gron.

"By the simple process of internal reorganization the company to which the harbor already belongs can transfer its shares to a company of any nationality."

AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 29.—A demonstration against the government by 60 revolutionaries took place today in the streets of the Galata district. The revolutionaries were arrested by regular troops.

WEAVERS WENT OUT

FALL RIVER, Aug. 29.—Following the strike of the loomists in one of the mills of the Fall River Iron Works company here yesterday some of the weavers in that plant left on strike today owing to a shortage of wages and the stopping of looms in consequence of the fire's absence.

The loomists at the Arkwright mills are still out.

WILSON AT FARMERS' RALLY

Interesting Talk on Way Government Has Been Managed

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa., Aug. 29.—Gov. Wilson in a speech at a farmers' rally here today talked of the farmers' share of prosperity with existing tariff laws.

He said in part:

"It is strange that we should have put off so long looking into our government to see whether it is in fact run according to the rules we originally laid down for it, but it is certain that we are now looking into it very sharply indeed and without the least danger that we shall be deceived again as to its character. Our idea has been from the first that it was a genuine partnership and that all were upon one footing and were to share alike.

"But a very interesting thing has come to light. That is not in fact the way the government has been administered in our time. It has been in the hands of self-constituted trustees and the partners have seldom been allowed a real governing voice in its administration.

"We had supposed that we were conducting the national business along the lines laid down by Jefferson, but we find that as a matter of fact we have been conducting it along the lines laid down by Hamilton. Hamilton believed that the common run of men had little qualification for such business, that it could be really comprehended and wisely directed only by those who had in commercial and industrial enterprises and owned the chief bodies of property in the country. And in our time the leaders of the republican party have consciously or unconsciously adopted his notion.

"These men financed party campaigns and were always on the inside when party policy was to be determined. Tariff schedules: the foreign policy of the country; the chief expenditures of the government; everything went as they suggested while the rank and file of us fared as we might and were happy if we had any small share in the prosperity which they organized for themselves. They were the trustees, we were their wards and took part in the common life as they planned and directed. What went on in the trustees' meetings we were very seldom allowed to learn—learned indeed only by imperious inquiry, only by congressional investigations or trials in court, which the trustees complained sadly interfered with the regular course of business.

"Mr. Roosevelt has proclaimed himself a convert to the protective policy—I saw a convert because he at one time very frankly avowed a different opinion, and has said that while he admitted that, no doubt, some duties were too high and ought to be lowered, on the whole the policy pursued by republican administrations had been the right one; and he thought the 'prize money' which had been received under that system by the manufacturers of the country was legitimate booty.

"The analogy is a very interesting one. Prize money is generally acquired by capture and not by any process of earning, but Mr. Roosevelt is always frank and says that his only objection to the system is that too much of the prize money remains in the hands of the officers and too little of it is distributed to the crew. His own kind avows to be to see to it that more of the prize money gets into the pay envelopes of those whom the free-booters employ. The interesting point I wish to raise now is who supplies the plunder? from whom is the prize money taken?

"The present democratic congress had the old-fashioned idea of government. They supposed that its benefits and protections were to be distributed and equally shared. It introduced and passed a bill which became known as the Farmers' free list bill. That bill put many indispensable things on the free list. Most prominent among them were agricultural implements, because the American farmer pays more for his agricultural implements than any other farmer in the world. The American

BURGLAR SENTENCED

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Louis Le Blanc, aged 18, of 14 Congress street, said to be a companion of Mary Bradley, the young woman burglar, who dressed in man's clothes, and who was arrested a few days since to a year in the house of correction, was taken into custody yesterday by officers of the Joy street station.

He was charged with breaking and entering the home of Mary Sanderson, 38 Hancock street, and the larceny of $150. The police also charge him with a break on Yarmouth street, Aug. 29, when the home of Joseph H. Fish was entered.

Report has it that these two men will be kept in hiding until the trial of Police Lieut. Becker is well under way and that they will then be brought forward as witnesses for the defense to swear that Rosenthal was slain in a gamblers' lair and that Rose, Webster and Fallon themselves took part in the killing.

Counsel for the defense had nothing to say regarding the report, but it was learned that lawyers for Becker will endeavor to show that Rosenthal was killed in a gamblers' lair and that the assassins sought to shift the responsibility for the killing on Becker.

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 29.—On a warrant sworn out by her father, whom she never remembered seeing, Isolina Crocetti, a 17-year-old girl, of 30 Melvin avenue, Lynn, was arrested yesterday afternoon, charged with being a stubborn child. The arrest came as a distinct surprise to the young girl, who did not even know that her father was living.

She told the police that the father, Angelo Crocetti, who is a resident of Salem, had deserted her mother in Italy when the daughter was but seven months old. He never returned to Italy. A few years ago the mother died and the girl came to America and lived with relatives in Lynn. The only explanation for the arrest that she could give was that her father was probably anxious to show that he was still her legal guardian.

Relatives of the girl furnished bail for her.

She told the police that the father, Angelo Crocetti, who is a resident of Salem, had deserted her mother in Italy when the daughter was but seven months old. He never returned to Italy. A few years ago the mother died and the girl came to America and lived with relatives in Lynn. The only explanation for the arrest that she could give was that her father was probably anxious to show that he was still her legal guardian.

Relatives of the girl furnished bail for her.

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 29.—On a warrant sworn out by her father, whom she never remembered seeing, Isolina Crocetti, a 17-year-old girl, of 30 Melvin avenue, Lynn, was arrested yesterday afternoon, charged with being a stubborn child. The arrest came as a distinct surprise to the young girl, who did not even know that her father was living.

WOLFGANG WINS PITCHERS' DUEL

Allowed Worcester Six Hits, and Lowell Won

PITCHER MELTON WOLFGANG

Makers of Baseball History in Struggle for the Pennant

MC GRAY

Lowell and Worcester engaged in as many a ball game as has been seen here this season at Spaulding park yesterday afternoon, and the principal reason of Melton's win was the fact that Lowell won. The score was three to two, which means that it was no one-sided contest. Melton Wolfgang, Lowell's clever and popular player, was on the mound for us, and opposing him was Christy Mathewson, one of the best southpaws in the league. The game was a battle between the box men and while in the early stages the Worcester man had a shade on our boy, the latter came strong and easily out-pitched the visiting bearded.

Wolfgang allowed the Busters but six hits and struck out more men. In only two innings did more than one hit come to the Busters, these being the first, when two with one error gave Worcester one run, and two in the fifth, when the bows with Lavigne's sacrifice to Hirschman gave the visitors their second and last run.

Lowell scored but three hits up to the seventh, when a string of good clear bunts posted Lowell the three runs, which proved sufficient to win. Mathewson started the game, after Clemens had pitched. He soon kept up the good work and then Hirschman blanked one to right that sent Magee home with Lowell's first run. Miller bunted a base on balls to Weaver and DeGroot came to the plate and with the score tied, DeGroot tried hard to connect with the first bearded that came over. He missed and another one came that did not touch DeGroot, but the third one came and the Lowell third batter gave it a clip to right for a hit and Hirschman came home with the run that won the game.

Many exciting plays were executed during the game, and it proved very enjoyable to all, especially the boys of the North Chelmsford grammar school who were there as the guests of the management, and they were very enthusiastic during the entire game. The band was there too, and they played a number of excellent selections. It was Nye's win, too, and the fair sex were there strong. The game and Wallace and Crum struck out, Clemens bled to Shornt, Magee went out, Weaver to Haas, DeGroot fanned.

Fifth Inning

Hirschman bled to DeGroot and was safe at first on the latter's double. Weaver hit an easy one to Wolfgang, who tossed the ball to DeGroot and sent Haas away. Weaver attempted to steal second and was thrown out, Lavigne to DeGroot. McGray singled to right field and Wolfgang singled to left. DeGroot took a long lead off first and Lavigne trying to catch him threw high to first, the ball going to right field and McGray scored. DeGroot going to second. Then Nye went out, Wolfgang to Hirschman.

Hirschman strayed and Miller hit the bases. DeGroot hit into a nice double play to Nye, who threw to Weaver and to Haas, putting DeGroot to Haas, putting DeGroot, Score: Lowell 6, Worcester 2.

Sixth Inning

Shornt and Hirschman both died, Miller and Lavigne to Hirschman, and Wallace fanned.

DeGroot went well with a single over the first station, but was disappointed by McGray to Weaver, when he thought he could cap second. Lavigne struck out and Wolfgang hit a smash ground to Weaver which the latter made short work of it with one hand and threw to Haas nailing Wolfgang.

Score: Lowell 6, Worcester 2.

GOVERNOR MARSHALL IN MAINE

Governor Marshall, Indiana candidate for vice president on the democratic ticket, has opened the campaign in dead earnest in the state of Maine. Marshall is a vigorous fighter; he is well informed on all the political issues of the hour and he fears no antagonist. He made a great hit at Portland Monday night, his logic and his wit capturing the audience from the start. Above all that, Marshall is logical and convincing. Here is a sample of his discussion of the republican tariff:

"I have had time enough to review the changing reasons advanced for the high protective tariff. I have found them all to be futile, unconvincing and discreditable. First, it was to pay off the war debt, the cost of which is the present burdener to contribute to the Union. Second, to foster our industries, then to foster our industries, then to protect American labor against the paper labor of Europe. Finally, in the last analysis to realize the cost of production at home and abroad. At last the crack waggon was made back to Washington prepared to take its manufacturers into partnership with us, so that this partnership was prepared to sell all the necessities of this country all the necessities of life except those arising from the taxes set for the benefit of the government, but for the benefit of the manufacturer.

"I have had time enough to determine what system of government should govern a government to form a partnership with us, so that the whole that is in my view while totally refusing to form a partnership with us, who else can the cost and expenses of the business of government to form a partnership with us, so that the whole that is in my view while totally refusing to form a partnership with us."

He showed that the new issue of the republican party, "scientific depression," must tell us it is impossible for any expert to determine the exact cost of production of any article in the state. He may find it to be $100, but it is individually but he cannot find the exact cost in the state so great is the variation when the various elements of power, labor, land, water, taxes, labor, raw material, freight rates and marketing are considered. He dealt with the relentless cruelty to the consumer extended in the fact that the manufactured products of our highly protected industries are sold more cheaply abroad than at home, showing that the special favors granted by the government do not seldom to our advantage. Thus the protected manufacturers instead of allowing the consumer to benefit by the small marks him pay it, while selling to the foreign market at prices $100 less than at home. It is estimated as Governor Marshall demonstrated that every man, woman and child in this country is paying $100 a year tribute to the manufacturers of the protected industries. The country tykes will do more for the issues of the campaign such as Governor Marshall's efforts. His work in Maine will doubtless bear good fruit and after the election in this state I hope soon he will make a tour of the other states. Governor Marshall deals with the issues of the campaign in a plain and simple way that always carries conviction. Such speeches as he is doing in Maine will do a vast amount of good in exposing the fallacy of excess protection and the enormous burdens it heaps upon the shoulders of the people.

SUNDAY IN POSTOFFICE

It appears to be rather a case of intermeddling with matters of detail for a master to direct how the postoffice shall observe the Sabbath. The closing of the general delivery and the stamp windows will prove a great convenience. The only Sunday delivery will be by special messenger and the fixed convenience now in vogue. It is right that postal employees shall have one day's rest in seven, but in order to do this it should not be necessary to suspend the operations of the postal system all over the country. It is understood that the postoffices will not be locked up so that those who have to go can get whatever mail is addressed to them in that case. It would not seem right to hamper the mail service in this manner. As the increased appropriation of $12,300,000 it would seem that there would be employees enough to keep things moving all the time.

MORE TROUBLE FOR TURKEY

It looks as if the Turkish provinces of Bulgaria, Montenegro, Serbia, Albania and Macedonia might achieve their independence if they make a concerted effort to cast off the Turkish yoke. These provinces have suffered so much from Turkish barbarity that they would be unworthy of freedom if they did not embrace the present opportunity to strike a blow at their oppressors. Turkey should be driven out of Europe and her power to oppress her Asiatic subjects should also be curtailed.

THE CANAL ISSUE

England is determined to send the canal matter to the Hague tribunal. In this matter she represents the other powers of Europe, all of whom are equally interested. A decision against the policy of this country in regarding the eastward trade would probably lead to the fortification of the canal.

There is now a general determination to send the canal matter to the Hague tribunal. In this matter she represents the other powers of Europe, all of whom are equally interested. The decision of another child, killed by an auto at Revere, indicates a needless order on the part of the drivers or those who have charge of the children. The fatality on the boulevard within a short time is quite alarming. If no one did something to protect the lives of the children who go there on excursions,

Such a sad and greater disgrace would come to Lawrence if it should be found that there was a conspiracy to injure the strikers by planting dynamite on big steel to injure the strikers. The investigation now going on will reveal the importance of prominent men in such a plot is somewhat alarming.

MARRIED ONE MAN AND LOVED ANOTHER

Katrino Melcho the Cause of
Exciting Time at Middlesex
Street Station Today

WEST CORAMBELLS AND ARGERIS GEORGIOS each claiming Katrino Melcho as his wife, created quite a sensation at the Middlesex street station this morning, when the two latter stepped off the Fall River train at the station. Patrolman William O'Brien was attracted to the scene and while he was inquiring into the cause of the trouble Sergeant Hugh Maguire put in an appearance and it was decided to take the trio to the police station to explain the difficulty. Later the matter was referred to the clerk of the police court and after considerable questioning with the assistance of interpreters it was finally decided that it was a matter for the immigration officers and not the police to iron out.

According to the story told by the two men and the woman, Corambells married the woman in Greece four years ago and one child was the result of the union. Three years ago Corambells came to this country in order to secure work and provide a home here. He sent money to his wife every month and had been over here, but a short time when he learned that his child had died. He still continued to send money to his wife, however.

Shortly after Corambells came to this country George fell in love with the woman and as much as she returned the love they met frequently, despite the fact that George had a wife and child living in Greece.

A few weeks ago George deserted his wife and child and with the Melcho woman secured passage to this country and arrived in New York last night.

GREAT DAY AT O. M. I. CAMP

Humphrey O'Sullivan
the Guest of
Honor

The camp of the O. M. I. cadets is meeting with great success at every turn and is an object of interest to a great many who visit the place each afternoon.

A large number of spectators made Michael's camp their destination yesterday afternoon and evening and were greatly entertained by the cadets. Early in the afternoon a 100 yard race was run for the championship of Lowell, the contestants being Jim Woods of Centralville and Carl Dodge. Woods was the victor and was presented with a solid silver trophy cup which was donated by Thomas F. Hoban of this city.

The camp presented a very beautiful scene last night with the 37 tents standing out boldly in the moonlight and the crowds on the grounds listening to a concert by the cadets' band.

Today is the big day of the week at the cadets' camp, as it was visited this afternoon by Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan. Early in the afternoon there were a couple of ball games and field events. Then Mr. O'Sullivan arrived to review the cadets on dress parade and witness their drills. He will be the guest of the cadets at supper and will address the gathering.

The daily life of the cadets in their camp is similar to that of the regular army. They rise at about seven o'clock, bathe, many of them are up and engaged in a game of ball at 8:30 a. m. and then breakfast is served.

After the morning meal the boys make their beds and clean out the tents and then it is time for the morning drill. This exercise occupies about an hour and a half, after which they play ball, swim or engage in some other sport. When a Sun reporter visited the camp this morning he saw several of the boys helping in the work of preparing the dinner. This they were compelled to do as a punishment for talking during the drill.

After dinner the campers arrange their tents for the afternoon inspection and to receive visitors. A number of them are assigned to police work and these patrol the grounds.

THREE SECRET INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY SPECIAL SUFFOLK COUNTY GRAND JURY TODAY

LOWELL LOST FIRST GAME TO LAWRENCE

LOWELL LOST FIRST

GAME TO LAWRENCE

Keating Won His Own Game
With Home Run—De Groff
Hit the Bull

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Two secret indictments were returned today by the Suffolk county grand jury through the alleged conspiracy to distribute dynamite in Lawrence during the textile strike there last winter. One indictment contained the name of one man, while the other named three men.

Dennis J. Collins of Cambridge was arrested after testifying before the grand jury for about ten minutes this morning.

They then came by the Fall River line to Fall River and this morning left that city for Lowell.

In the meantime, Corambells had learned that his wife and Georgios were on their way to Lowell and when the train arrived at the Middlesex street station he met the couple and man William O'Brien was attracted to them and ensued a wordy argument.

The woman denied that she was married to Corambells, claiming that Georgios was her husband.

When taken to the police station, however, the woman admitted that she had been married to Corambells in the clerk of the police court and after considerable questioning with the assistance of interpreters it was practically decided that it was a matter for the immigration officers and not the police to iron out.

Corambells indicated that he did not care for his wife any more and that if she wanted to go with Georgios she could, stating that all he wanted was to secure enough of evidence in order to secure a divorce.

If the stories as told by the different parties are true, Georgios and the woman can be returned to Greece by the immigration authorities immediately as the woman must have come to the United States.

There are in all about 150 boys in the camp with Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. L. Oliver McCann and a military instructor in charge. They will break camp on next Saturday night and continue the healthful outdoor life is being enjoyed by all.

Small accounts solicited and appreciated at the Old Lowell National bank.

DEATHS

FERRON—Mrs. Frances Ferron, nee Marie Lee L'Heureux, aged 69 years, died last night as a result of an attack of heart trouble. She leaves to mourn her loss seven children, including Josephine Corcoran, Mrs. Hermanine Lorraine and Mrs. Marie McKinnon, all of this city. Mrs. Rebecca Louchard, in Canada and Joseph and Henry of Lowell. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Alexander Arambamant and later to the home of the deceased, 7 Middle lane street.

CUT ON RIGHT ARM

Elmer Miller received a cut on his right arm while at work in the carpenter shop of the Lowell Matchine Shop this afternoon. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the Lowell Hospital, where he received treatment. He resides at 52 Moody street.

FRACTURED HIS FINGER

Michael Murphy, aged 44 years and employed as a teamster for the Harvard Brewing company, met with a painful accident this afternoon. He and another teamster had been unloading barrels in Winter street and as he was throwing the skids back into the wagon they slipped and crushed the index finger of the left hand. He was taken to the Emergency hospital where it was found that he was suffering from a compound fracture of the finger. After the finger had been dressed he went to his home, 54 Main street.

KEEP OFF THE TRACK!

The officials of the Boston and Maine railroad are going to enforce the "no trespassing" rule strictly, owing to the fact that many persons are walking up the tracks from the Middlesex street depot, and many signs bearing the inscription in large letters: "No trespassing, under penalty of the law," arrived at the depot today and they will be placed at different intervals along the tracks. One will also be placed on the hill just above the depot. Here many children congregate and play, and owing to the steep incline, they are in great danger there.

As the place opens into Middlesex street it is impossible to keep the young ones away from the hill. The signs will be placed there and an attempt will be made to keep all off the grounds.

The baggage being handled at the depot continues to be very heavy, and the employees of that department are kept on the jump, these days.

All trains were running on good time today, and each carried its capacity of passengers and baggage.

Small accounts solicited and appreciated at the Old Lowell National bank.

HOURS: 8:30-3:00, Saturdays, 8-12:30, 7-9 P. M.

The single indictment was returned against Collins, who was charged with unlawfully transporting dynamite on the previous day.

District Attorney Pelletier, who obtained the facts personally on which he based the charges he made before the grand jury, attacked District Attorney Henry C. Attwill and the Superior Court for allowing John J. Brean to witness first place from the Lawrence team.

The two best umpires in the league officiated at this afternoon's performance, namely, Jack Staffler and "Red" Horst.

Evidently the fans anticipated something big in the line of ball tossing, so to be on the boards for the boys and girls who enjoy the privilege of the usual Thursday ball-hitting.

Collins stood out to Lyster and McGraw, while the regulars, many of whom do not participate in the holidays, but who make up the bulk of the audience, were not in the field.

Dee fanned Carlstrom, hit a high one to Lynch, and the batters and grand stand stood this afternoon.

Everything was favorable for today's grand.

He scored when Clemens let Laverne's throw get by, Ulrich singled and bunt between the legs leaders and Carlstrom both struck out.

Dee swatted the atmosphere and Lawrence fanned out to Carlstrom. Pfeffer went out on a line drive to Carlstrom.

Score—Lowell 1, Lawrence 1.

Sixth Inning

Cargo and Shattery were both put away on fly balls to Clemens. Lyster drew a walk to first and Briggs was up to bat.

Collins fanned to Lyster and McGraw singled. He tried to stand and was punished, Ulrich to Carlstrom. De Groff couldn't get out of the way and went first when hit by a pitch.

Miller fanned a high one to Lynch, which the latter easily pulled down.

Score—Lowell 1, Lawrence 1.

Seventh Inning

Kennedy fanned and Lynch singled. Ulrich fanned to Dee who tossed the ball to Miller and fanned Lynch.

Dee closed the game with a double.

Score—Lowell 1, Lawrence 1.

Eighth Inning

Each of the three fielders got a chance. Cargo to Shattery, Clemens was thrown out to Lynch.

Dee fanned and Pfeffer went out.

Score—Lowell 1, Lawrence 1.

Ninth Inning

Briggs out, Boulles to McGraw, Kennedy fanned to Lyster, De Groff to Carlstrom, and Dees closed the game with a double.

Score—Lowell 1, Lawrence 1.

Second Inning

Lyster opened with a two banger to right field and Briggs fanned out to De Groff.

Miller fanned to Lyster and Dees closed the game with a double.

Score—Lowell 1, Lawrence 1.

Third Inning

Kennedy was sent away by Dee to McGraw, Carlstrom fanned out to Boulles and cargo hit a tail fly which went out to Shattery.

Collins fanned to Lyster and Dees closed the game with a double.

Score—Lowell 1, Lawrence 1.

Fourth Inning

Shattery died on a grounder to McGraw, Carlstrom fanned out to Boulles and cargo hit a tail fly which went out to Shattery.

Collins again gave a great exhibition of his speed by beating out another bunt. However when he tried to steal, he was back to Ulrich to Carlstrom.

Score—Lowell 1, Lawrence 1.

Fifth Inning

Shattery died on a grounder to McGraw, Carlstrom fanned out to Boulles and cargo hit a tail fly which went out to Shattery.

Collins again gave a great exhibition of his speed by beating out another bunt. However when he tried to steal, he was back to Ulrich to Carlstrom.

Score—Lowell 1, Lawrence 1.

WEAVERS WENT OUT

FALL RIVER, Aug. 29.—Following the strike of the loomists in four of the mills of the Fall River Iron Works company here yesterday, some of the weavers in that plant left their work today owing to a shortage of supplies and the stopping of looms in consequence of the fixers' absence.

The loomists at the Ackwright mills are still out.

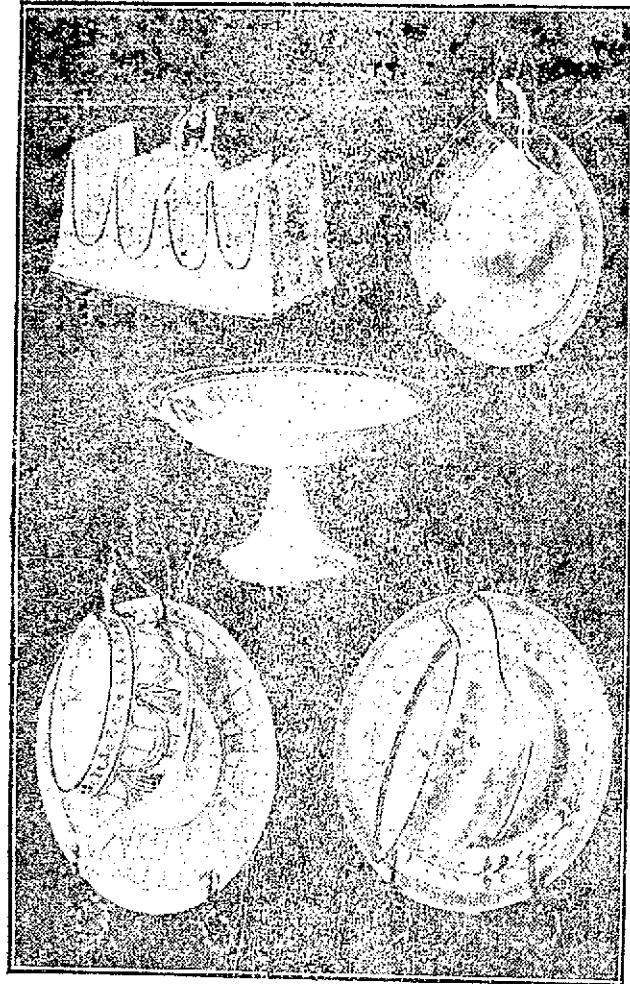

Small accounts solicited and appreciated at the Old Lowell National bank.

New China for Wedding Gifts Is Attracting Great Attention

Several new designs in fine chinaware are pictured here. The three cups for after dinner coffee show new border patterns; the center being an interesting Egyptian design. The compote is of delicate Sevres and the toast rack of Dresden china in a floral pattern.

KIDNAPPED BOYS

PARENTS AND POLICE FAIL TO FIND ANY TRACE OF THEM

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—In conjunction with the police, Carmine Cannizzaro of No. 2, Aspen place, Passaic, is still conducting the search for his four-year-old son, Frank, who was kidnapped Tuesday while his mother was in the rear of her home preparing supper. No clue to his whereabouts has been discovered.

In following up the report of a neighbor that an express wagon, with the address "18 Chrystie street" on it, carried the little fellow off after he had been enticed into it by the driver, the boy's father spent most of yesterday in New York in his automobile, but without result. Mrs. Cannizzaro is suffering from the shock and is continually attended by a physician.

The Passaic police are looking for a green delivery wagon. Mrs. Anna Sait of No. 39 Astoria place asserts she saw this wagon in the neighborhood just before the kidnapping and that it was drawn by a gray horse.

Cooperians said yesterday the last of the many black hand letters sent to him was received over a year ago. It stated that the writer would "return" to him or later.

At the time of his disappearance, he was in red suit, blue stockings and tan shoes. His hair and eyes are dark. A vaccination scar on his left arm, four months old, is the only mark on his body.

While the search for the Cannizzaro boy is being conducted, Mrs. Antonia Gatto, of No. 71 North Street, gave up a reward of $100 for the return of her four-and-a-half-year-old grandson, who mysteriously disappeared July 6. Apparently he was kidnapped, though Mrs. Gatto asserts she has never received threats of any kind, and decries the lack of police interest.

Antonio Gatto is a ringer with very dark eyes. He first went to the playground in Boston in the company of several other children. They remained until midnight when he returned to return home with the others. A search by his parents failed to reveal him.

Four-year-old Edward Harvey, 1600 on Congress street, the son of a policeman said yesterday that he saw a "bigonym" carry Frank away. But nothing there could be obtained from him.

The missing lad had blonde hair, blue eyes and blue eyes.

He disappeared and at the time of his

Continental Hats With Eccentric Brims a Fall Fancy

Headgear in Great Variety and Many Smart Styles

At this season of the year summer's effect. A black and white creation of the aviator shape that was so popular is quite sure to present a sorry sight to any friends, but such a hat last winter. The crown is much the same as the old model, but the edge of the brim, and there is a band of velvet and braid around the crown, the wearer's part of "forcing the sea," feathers taken from the birds, and the feathers have settled inconsequently in folds of the ribbon trimmings and the feathers have taken on a life of their own. Such a hat, too, can very appropriately be added to the winter wardrobe so long as it can be kept fresh.

It is an entirely new but not possible at least new trimming and a coat of hat will in a number of instances have a satisfactory effect. The large bow of lace or madras is wonderfully useful in the rejuvenation of a pastel chapeau, provided always that the straw can be induced to take on a new lease of life. Ruffles or lace are also becoming and add a new wrinkle when attached so they fall elegantly over the brim. Facing the brim with white lace is another way of making an old hat look smart.

If you have a Panama hat that is not appearing to the best advantage these early fall days try the transforming influence of flowered chiffon, to be used on the upper brim and over the crown, then bind the edge of the hat with white moire ribbon. A narrow band of the moire ribbon should encircle the crown at the base, ending in a tight bow at the left side.

Many smart tailored hats—small, medium sized and even moderately large—are now in the shops ready for fall wearers and possibly the best looking of these models are carried off the tree of the wearer. There is, too, a new outing hat of white satin crown with a brim of black knitted wool that girls who go in for fat or satin makes an attractive novelty.

It is on the order with a rolling sailor brim faced with made of old gold lace. Eccentric brims are all the rage, and this model has a brim that towers higher than the crown.

The little fall turban among the cuts is very smart with its big bag crown of dark velvet over a turned back brim of white plush. The white tulle, made of braid, is effective against the dark velvet.

Another cut shows a hat that turns away abruptly from the face and trimmed merely with an alonet. The suit worn with this confection is a very fetching French affair, with a skirt of black and white velvet. The coat is semi-fitted and has the smart cutaway front. A feature is the double Robespierre collar, that on the coat being overlapped by the collar of the vest, which is of white broadcloth.

There is a rumor that hand bags and hats are going to match this autumn or at least harmonize color with the new headgear. And there is also a hint from gay Paree that they are going to be more of the suit case size than the steamer trunk variety that women have burdened themselves with for the past few seasons.

I wonder what people did before the days of the hand bags! Women put a little of everything in them. I saw one empty recently, and a boy's pocket was a simple spider beside it. There were handkerchiefs and powder puffs and a small comb and a notebook and a manuscript and smelling salts and samples of fall materials and "The Meditations of Marcus Aurelius." I wonder what the Parisian women do who change their hand bags with their dresses! They must spend most of their time removing the debris from one bag to another.

WILSON AT FARMERS' RALLY

Interesting Talk on Way Government Has Been Managed

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa., Aug. 29.—Gov. Wilson in a speech at a farmers' rally here today talked of the farmers' share of prosperity with existing tariff laws.

He said in part:

"But a very interesting thing has come to light. That is not in fact the way the government has been administered in our time. It has been in the hands of self-constituted trustees and the partners have seldom been allowed a real governing voice in its administration."

"We had supposed that we were conducting the national business along the lines laid down by Jefferson, but we find that as a matter of fact we have been conducting it along the lines laid down by Hamilton. Hamilton believed that the common run of men had little qualification for such business, that it could be really comprehended and wisely directed only by those who led in commercial and industrial enterprises and owned the chief bodies of property in the country. And in our time the leaders of the republican party have consciously or unconsciously adopted his notion."

"These men financed party campaigns and were always on the inside when party policy was to be determined. Tariff schedules; the foreign policy of the country; the chief expenditures of the government; everything went as they suggested while the rank and file of us fared as we might and were happy if we had any small share in the prosperity which farmer in the world. The American manufacturers who make agricultural implements sell them much cheaper on the other side of the water. On the other side they undersell the local manufacturers of agricultural implements, and prove by their eagerness for foreign business and their rapid expansion of it that they can afford to do so even with the additional cost of the ocean freights. It was a very natural act on the part of the democratic congress, therefore, to put agricultural implements on the free list, to put fence wire also on the free list, and the bagging and ties which the southern farmer needs and uses for his cotton. It added lumber and lathes and shingles and leather and shoes and salt and meats, thinking not of the farmer alone, but of all of us who are struggling to live and pay our bills. But such changes did not comport with the ideas and plans of the trustees and the president vetoed the free list. I dare say he was right from his point of view, for he represented the trustees and not the people."

"The trustees represent also the big bankers in whose hands our banking system lies to be manipulated, and no republican administration, no republican congress, has attempted to serve the farmer as he ought to be served in the matter of credits. It is practically impossible for the farmer to borrow money on the kind of securities ordinarily demanded at the banks. It does not serve his purpose to borrow it for the short periods insisted upon by most bankers. He needs, rather, long credits, and he needs them on his own kind of security. He can't be mortgaging his farm every time he needs a little money. Other countries have discovered how to assist him. An admirable system of agricultural societies has been developed in Ireland, and an excellent one in Germany, and the present democratic congress has done nothing better than to provide for a careful investigation of this subject with a view to early action, so that the law may be fitted to the creation of these new instruments of business which the farmer so much needs and ought to have."

BURGLAR SENTENCED

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Louis Le Blanc, aged 18, of 15 Caudleland street, said to be a companion of Mary Bradley, the young woman burglar, who dressed in man's clothes, and who was sentenced a few days since to a year in the house of correction, was taken into custody yesterday by officers of the Joy street station.

He was charged with breaking and entering the home of Mary Sutherland, 33 Hancock street, and the larceny of $150. The police also charge him with a break on Yarmouth street, Aug. 29, when the home of Joseph H. Fish was entered.

TO HOLD AN INQUEST

On Death of J. Driscoll

Injured by Fall

An inquest into the cause of the death of John Driscoll, who jumped off an electric car in Chelmsford street, in the vicinity of the City hospital, about 10:20 o'clock on the night of Aug. 21 and sustained injuries from which he later died, will be held in the court of second sessions in the Market street building next Tuesday morning.

According to the information received by the police, the man, whose name was unknown at the time of the accident, boarded a Chelmsford Central car and got into an argument with some passengers. When the car was nearing the entrance to the Chelmsford Street hospital the man stepped on the running board of the car and then jumped into the street, the car then in motion at the time.

The car was brought to a standstill and inasmuch as the man had suffered severe injuries the ambulance was summoned and he was removed to St. John's hospital. Shortly after arriving at the hospital he became unconscious and later died.

On Aug. 24th the body was identified as that of John Driscoll by Daniel Lane of West Billerica, the latter stating that Driscoll had been employed by him.

How to keep pace with the rapid growth of suburban population has been a perplexing question with city merchants. Customers, moving into the country, still want daily deliveries of purchased goods, and it is impossible to reach them all with horses.

The solution of the problem has been found by hundreds of local merchants in the Autocar Motor Truck, made at Ardmore, Pa. Users of this popular delivery car are reaping a rich harvest from suburban trade, and building up business in sections which horses and wagons cannot cover.

Express deliveries, by which articles were formerly sent out to suburban railroad stations, have been eliminated by Autocar owners. They now deliver their goods right at the purchaser's door anywhere within a radius of thirty miles from the store. Not only do they serve their old customers better, but the improved system is bringing them new patronage every day.

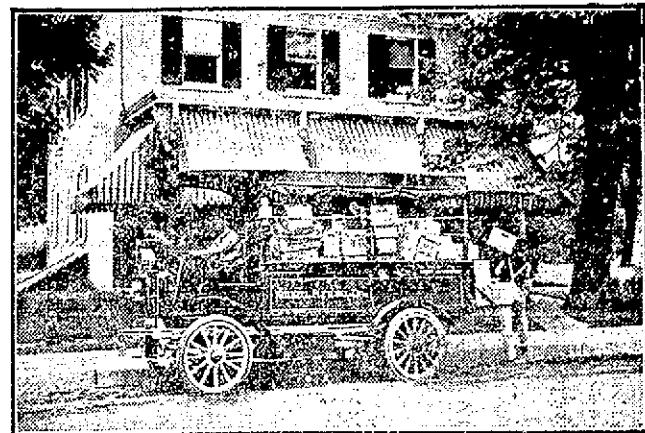

Following are some of the towns which Autocar owners find well within their delivery territory:—

sented. Edgar did not make a speech, but he looked the appreciation that he deserved. The folk dancing was a pretty feature of the exercises, the little tots neatly and cleanly dressed, dancing on the green. They formed a circle and in the center of the circle was a piano. The youngsters seemed to enjoy it immensely, and so did the spectators.

The display of fancy work was another interesting feature and the display table was loaded with sofa pillows, table mats, little dresses and other things. Women were heard to express their admiration for the work of the children and the display as a whole demonstrated the fact that playground movement is a very worthy one.

Games were still in progress at the time of going to press and our mutual friend Jack Condon was having the time of his life inspiring ball games between the Buffaloes and the South Commons.

William McCable captured first prize in the high jump for small boys with Bennett Myers a close second. The high jump for the big boys, Dan Moriarity was first and Joe Foster second.

The games were not as exciting as last year when playground met playground on the South common but there was enthusiasm enough to make it interesting.

There were at least three ball games in session at one and the same time, and if you happened to wander into

The exhibition of boys work was conducted by James H. Rooney, a former supervisor, in the absence of Mr. Elyea, who left to take another position about a week ago. The janitors, John Barrett and David Cormick, have also helped handle the boys during the session. The first events were the ball games, both of them hotly contested, between the Red Eagles and the Wahoos, and the Clippers versus the Bostonians. In the latter game, especially, those little French boys showed that they knew the fine points of baseball.

The first race, a 100 yards dash, entered into by seven of the littlest, was won by Kelley; Whalen, second, and Higgins, third.

The second race, 100-yard dash for the larger boys, was won by McSorley; Lahey, second, and Santner, third.

The relay race for small boys was won by the following team: Burke, McSorley, Twomey and Mullarkey. That for the larger boys was won by Barrett, O'Brien, Thompson and Hart.

The mile run was won by Rowe.

High jump: St. Clair, first; McKenna and Mulvey tied for second place.

There were over 30 prizes.

Hand race: Edmond Lessard, first, ball glove; Edmond Lambert, second, fancy handkerchief, and James Lim, third, fancy handkerchief.

The relay race was won by the Young Eagles team.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

Dr. Simpson Confers With

Mayor O'Donnell

Dr. C. E. Simpson, district inspector for the state board of health, Agent E. A. Bates of the local board of health and Mayor O'Donnell held a conference in the mayor's office this morning relative to chapter 576 of the state laws, which is an act to provide for the maintenance of tuberculosis dispensaries in cities and towns of 10,000 inhabitants or over.

The act reads as follows:

Every city or every town containing a population of 10,000 or more as determined by the latest United States census, shall establish and maintain within its limits a dispensary for the discovery, treatment and supervision of needy persons resident within its limits and afflicted with tuberculosis unless there already exists in such city or town a dispensary which is satisfactory to the state board of health. The said dispensaries shall be subject to the regulations of the boards of health of the cities or towns in which they are respectively situated. A city or town subject to the provisions of this act which, upon the request of the city board of health, refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions thereof, shall forfeit not more than $500 for every such refusal or neglect.

Approved June 22, 1912.

It is said that the city was examined by the state board of health last year to comply with the provisions of this act, but nothing has as yet been done in that respect. During the conference this morning it was suggested that the dispensary at city hall be remained one day a week for this purpose and that physicians be in attendance and also that the district nurses co-operate with the physicians to stop the spread of the disease. The dispensary and services of the doctors and nurses would be for such patients who are afflicted with the disease and who are not patients of any hospital where the disease is treated.

The patients would call at city hall once a week and have their case diagnosed. If this plan is carried through the nurses will call at the homes of those afflicted and instruct them as to the means of checking this dreadful malady and also to cure it, or at least relieve the sufferer. The mayor will bring the matter before the municipal council.

Deaths in Baby Land

The local board of health has made a study of the deaths among babies of the age of one year and younger during the months of June and July of this year from gastro-intestinal diseases, which shows that there is a decrease of 8 per cent with the same months of last year, and the following comparative statement has been given relative to this matter:

June 1912 1911
Cholera infantum ..... 3 7
Other gastro-intestinal diseases ..... 7
Total ..... 11 14

The maximum average daily temperature for the month of June was 79 degrees, which was two degrees higher than it was June last year.

July 1912 1911
Cholera infantum ..... 6 16
Other gastro-intestinal diseases ..... 13
Total ..... 11 19

The maximum average temperature for the month of July was 85 degrees, which was 4 degrees lower than it was in July of last year.

Taking the two months together and comparing them with the same months of last year, the figures are as follows:

Total deaths of babies of one year and younger from

July 1912 1911
All gastro-intestinal diseases ..... 45 46
Cholera infantum ..... 2 7

This shows a decrease of 56 per cent this year in the total number of deaths from gastro-intestinal diseases, and a decrease of 82 per cent in the number of deaths from cholera infantum.

Lowell with its increase of 56 per cent in the number of deaths of babies of the age of one year and younger from gastro-intestinal diseases during the months of June and July of this year compares very favorably with the following cities:

Fell River, 55 per cent, decrease; Boston, 26 per cent; New York, is percent; New Bedford, 1 per cent.

GOVERNOR PLAISTED OF MAINE

Declares He is Committed to Woodrow Wilson for President

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 28.—With pitiless persistency, Gov. Frederick W. Plaisted reiterates the question to his Republican opponent, William T. Haines, "Are you for Taft or for Roosevelt?"

Last night, joining Gov. Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana at a rally here, Haines' executive declared he was committed to Woodrow Wilson for president, and remarked that he had been unable to ascertain whether the meeting held here recently which Mr. Haines addressed was in the interest of Taft and Haines or Roosevelt and Haines.

Inasmuch as last night's audience had last week observed Candidate Haines sedulously avoid a disclosure of his presidential preference, the gathering was disposed to enjoy the humor of the allusion to the Republican candidate's embarrassment.

This query, which Mr. Haines is ignoring, has become one of the jests of the campaign, and many an argument in Mr. Haines' favor is turned into a joke by a reference to the candidate's silence on the issue that has divided his party.

Feeling among Republicans as between President Taft and Col. Roosevelt runs high, and it is a serious question whether Mr. Haines is not by his silence increasing the number of those who proposed to remain away from the polls on Sept. 9.

The gravest apprehension of the managers of the republican campaign is that differences of opinion with respect to the Chicago convention will keep hundreds of Republican voters at home on election day. The disqualification of the candidate to express a preference, and the consequent ridicule of his attitude by the democratic speakers, is obviously having an adverse effect to his interests.

Plaisted Defines Position

Last night the democratic governor hardly had to make reply to the serious arguments by Mr. Haines before a similar audience last week once he had started the laugh by inquiring whether his opponent was for the president or the colonel.

Mr. Haines spoke to a large gathering here last week, greater in number than that assembled tonight to hear Gov. Plaisted and Gov. Marshall, although there were no vacant seats in city hall last evening. But on the occasion the republican nominee for governor avoided two subjects which the democratic candidate frankly discussed last evening: the national ticket of his party and prohibition.

Mr. Haines did not say whether he favored prohibition, local option or any other means of dealing with the wine problem, although of all the cities in the state, Bangor has a vital interest in the attitude of a gubernatorial candidate with respect to the issue of prohibition.

Gov. Plaisted last night asserted himself in accord with the proposition of his party for local option in the cities and prohibition for the towns. Thus, the democratic candidate gave his audience full information as to his views, when Mr. Haines lost an opportunity to define his position to a gathering which was inclined to view him favorably.

It was demonstrated again last evening that the voters of Maine do wish to hear national issues discussed, and this was exemplified in the attention and applause given to Gov. Marshall. Gov. Marshall departed from his sermon on old fashioned democracy and urged radical reform of the legal profession. The governor indicted and convicted members of his own profession for violation and criminal evasion of law and much of the criticism of the courts he believed should be against the unscrupulous practice of lawyers rather than the conduct of judges.

Scientists From All Over World Will Attend

Congress of Applied Chemistry in Washington

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The eighth international congress of applied chemistry will convene in this city Sept. 4 and after a few days will move to New York. Representatives of 24 countries, the leading men in their lines will attend and will read papers. Dr. J. A. Holmes, director of the United States bureau of mines, is president of the section on political economy and conservation of natural resources. Dr. Bernhard C. Hesse of prohibition was not possible because it was not desired and therefore he proposed local option, but in the towns where the sentiment made enforcement possible, he considered prohibition feasible.

New York is the secretary of congress. W. D. Bigelow, Ph. D., of the United States department of agriculture, is president of the pure food section. John W. Mallett, M. D., Ph. D., of the University of Virginia, is regarded as the "grand old man" of chemistry in this country. He has taught chemistry continuously since 1855 except for a time during the Civil war, when he was in the Confederate army and was superintendent of the ordnance factory.

This candid expression was applauded.

MARSHALL'S SCHEDULE

LEWISTON, Me., Aug. 29.—The schedule of Governor Marshall of Indiana, democratic nominee for vice president, called for an address here tonight in behalf of Governor F. W. Plaisted and the rest of the Maine state democratic ticket seeking endorsement at the polls on Sept. 9. To-night's speech will close the vice presidential candidate's tour of Maine.

The governor is being attacked for the increase in the state tax rate and he replied by explaining the necessity of the demand for the payment of debts of the pension administrative and state contractors by it. He promised, however, to recommend a management which would within two years reduce the tax rate to a point lower than it was when he went into office.

Gov. Plaisted admitted that the governor had no way of knowing a prohibitory law when a public sentiment did not support it and when the people elected county officers with the distinct understanding that the law should not be rigidly enforced. In the cities to date, as she has won only a heat or two, although a factor in every start. Not in many years and only twice or three times in the history of the event has the Massachusetts had such a well matched field. Horse racing is "mighty unsartin," and some horse may romp off with first money without much of a contest, but such a thing looks very doubtful.

The other races will be a 3-year-old trot, with a dozen starters, and the 2 1/2 pacers. The summary:

Boy Scouts--Good Citizens in the Making

About 4,000 Camps Scattered Over Country

Something like 4,000 camps of boy scouts have been scattered over the country this summer, and many thousands of boys have enjoyed the opportunities afforded by them for healthful exercise in the open under the direction of scout masters who are no less solicitous of their moral and intellectual than of their physical development, for as Colonel Roosevelt, who is honorary vice president of the Boy Scouts of America, has said, the movement "is in its essence a practical scheme through which to import a proper standard of ethical conduct, proper standards of fair play, consideration for others and courtesy and decency to boys who have never been reared and never will be reared by the ordinary type of preaching, any or none."

The real purpose of the scouts is instilled up by all the leaders of the movement who are impatient at the misunderstanding of those critics who have derived it as marking the militaristic one of the main reasons for the recent visit to the United States of General Baden-Powell, the founder of the order, was to remove the impression that the scouts were soldiers in the making and to impress upon the public the fact that the boys were being trained merely for good citizenship. These are some of the injunctions which he lays upon the scouts:

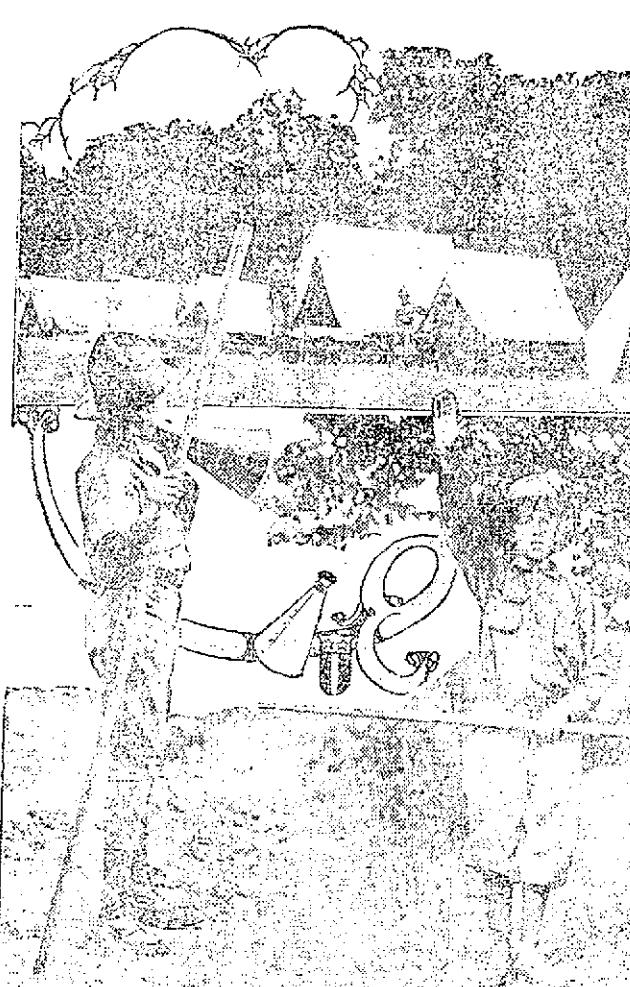

To learn cooking and camping and how to look after themselves in the wild, whether on water or on land.

To be manly, chivalrous follows, especially by doing good turns daily, however small, to the weaker and smaller.

To join together as troops or patrols in doing public service as a matter of duty and not with any idea of being rewarded.

Following out this last injunction, the boy scouts have allied themselves with various movements looking toward the improvement of civic conditions. They have done excellent service in the "citizen" movement and for the associated reform of fly extermination. They have joined in the agitation for a state and some Fourth and are now to be utilized to prevent fires in town and country, in the latter particularly, to work in making and extending their examples.

The purpose of the scout masters and others in authority is not to make heroes of the youngsters, but mainly men, good citizens, ready to take the initiative in civic work instead of waiting for somebody else to say "Come on." Nevertheless the policy of "doing good things" every day, which is one of General Baden-Powell's pet ideas, does work out particularly in those outdoor experiences of the scouts, in some degree that the average person regards as heroic. Only a few months ago the property of a public institution in New Jersey was saved from destruction by fire through the efforts of two boy scouts, who were shown to have saved another's life at the risk of his own.

The boy scout movement, which now counts about 300,000 boys as adherents, has been induced by President Taft, who became honorary president; Colonel Roosevelt, who became vice president of the United States, becoming chief scout warden of the boy scouts, assumed charge of the work relating to the development of trees and other natural resources.

The photographs here reproduced are of the largest camp of boy scouts in the neighborhood of New York.

MARION AGASSIZ THROWN

Hurled Over Head of Horse in Hurdle

MAGNOLIA, Aug. 28.—Miss Marion Agassiz, riding her gelding "Searchlight" at the Magnolia horse show yesterday, thrilled and startled 3,000 spectators when, with her steed running at terrific speed, she failed in an attempt to make a hurdle and fell.

The horse fell short in the jump and landed on top of the bar. With the dash the girl was thrown clear of the wood, being buried over the animal's head and landing in a hole ten feet away.

Attendees held the strung-out horse and others ran to the assistance of the dismounted rider. She was unharmed, however, and quickly resumed her seat.

The annual Magnolia horse show was a conspicuous success. It is the principal event of the season at the beach and many distinguished people were there. The Misses Agassiz and Elsie, daughters of Governor Taft, were a particular attraction. Miss Helen with two cups, Miss Mrs. Edith Agassiz, the Queen mare, "Rose Chiffon."

Among the riders were Miss Elizabeth Miller, Miss William B. Miller, Miss Phyllis St. John, Miss Elizabeth Phipps, Miss M. Monroe Diamond, Miss Marion Agassiz, Miss Ruth Anthony, Mrs. E. W. Clarke, Miss Mary Carter, Miss Esther Ross, and Miss Alice May.

The show was under the management of Hiram Miller, assisted by Thompson Miller, Detroit; Elmer J. Marquard, Elmer J. Marquard, J. B. Marquard, and others, and Edward Tadlock, manager of Ipswich.

TILLMAN RENGINATED

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Philly finally got its return from the democratic primary which took place yesterday in which the democratic candidate for the legislature and municipal election, Mr. T. D. Tillman, was elected. The returns are to the effect that Tillman has been reelected by a majority of 110,000.

The returns received indicate Sen. Landis is worth $100,000. At a small hotel he has been reelected over his two opponents.

HORACE GREELEY

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE MARKS HIS BIRTHPLACE

AMHERST, N. H., Aug. 29.—From the rocky soil of the rugged New England farm in the town of Amherst, Horace Greeley first saw the light of day there, he has been due an appropriate honor which has been voted to the front of the Greeley homestead in residence to receive a memorial tablet provided for by act of the New Hampshire legislature.

For nearly 75 years the first home of the great editor went without a distinguishing mark of any kind. Then Albert J. Pittsford, a native of the neighboring town of Milford, and former attorney general of Massachusetts at his own expense placed a marker upon the house.

The last legislature appropriated $100 to provide a bronze tablet to mark the birthplace of Greeley and a committee headed by Governor Taft's decided upon using a bronze disk from the same base for the inscription. A bronze plate commemorating the historical political events of the neighborhood will soon be placed upon the marker.

GAVE SHORT WEIGHT

BOSTON PRODUCEMEN ARE SUMMONED TO COURT

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Charges of selling sweet potatoes at a shortage in weight of 20 pounds per barrel have been preferred against a number of Boston's largest wholesale produce dealers, eight of whom have received summonses to appear in the municipal criminal court Sept. 3 to answer to these charges.

Nine barrels of potatoes were purchased from different dealers who were in the vicinity and numerous dealers of the city, and of the nine only one barrel was found to be under weight, except by law. It has been discovered that 1800 barrels of potatoes have been shipped into Boston this month. It is alleged, further, a total shortage in weight of 378,600 pounds.

Charles H. Wright, attorney for the city, and his associates, who are to appear in court, are to file a complaint for a fine of $1000 for each barrel.

GAMBLING PROFITS

Three brothers who ran for thirty years the famous "Cuban" A. J. Lewis and Paul have netted $150,000,000. The present lease of the gambling tables of the Cubana and Municipal casino of Boronita is a former publican who has not received at time of publication.

The returns received indicate Sen. Landis is worth $100,000. At a small hotel he has been reelected over his two opponents.

BLOOD OF WIFE

GIVES LIFE TO CAPTAIN OF WORCESTER BASEBALL TEAM

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29.—Harry Andrew, the ball player, formerly of the Boston Nationals and now captain of the Worcester (Mass.) team, has the heroism of his wife, Mrs. Margaret Andrew, and the skill of Jules Hopkins, his personal surgeon, to thank for his life.

Left side by side on the operating table with her artery attached to his vein in the arms, her blood flowed into the life of the man with whom she was one. For an hour the transfusion went on, until the man was considered strong enough to stand an operation.

He had a tumor in the bladder. It had been bleeding profusely, and his condition was critically low. He went to the hospital nearly dead.

It was a certainty that without the transfusion he could never have survived the operation. The knife was not used. Instead, an electric wire was introduced, and by means of the current, fastened around the tumor. Then the current was turned on, and as it was heated white, it ate its way through and cut out the tumor. One of the surgeons in the operation said yesterday:

"Until very recently the use of electric currents as we used it was an untried operation, but it proved so successful from the start that it is now one of the favorite methods of destroying a tumor. No knife is required nor do we need to use an X-ray."

The patient in this case recovered rapidly and is now in fine condition.

He was under treatment and operation for a little more than an hour. His wife recovered immediately and was sent home.

AVIATORS IN TROUBLE

LOONTON, Aug. 29.—A double accident occurred in Cleveland, involving White, the British aviator and his wife, while flying last night from Santa Fe on to Cleckton on the west coast. A defect in the motor of their hydroplane compelled them to alight on the surface of the water at Cleckton. The machine was sighted and taken in by a yacht and Mr. and Mrs. George White were rescued. Soon afterward the yacht was aground on a rock, where it remained until this morning.

CHANGE IN GOVERNMENT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29.—A constitutional term of government, including the right of the initiative and referendum, was adopted at the annual election here yesterday by a vote of 25,300 to 21,100. At the general election in November a constitutional amendment will be voted upon, the carrying of which will give the right of recall, which will be made a feature of the form of government just adopted.

Under the city's new governmental system, the executive and legislative power will be lodged in a mayor and four commissioners each. Their purpose is to select candidates will be held October 1. The municipal election will be held at the same time as the general election in November.

CHAMP CLARK IN BOSTON

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Speaker Clark refused to discuss politics during a short stop in this city today while on the way from Washington to the Hotel Me., where the speaker announced to make his opening address tonight in the Maine democratic state campaign.

DEMOCRATS IN LINE

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—As Governor Wilson left here today for Williams Grove, Pa., to deliver his first campaign speech outside of New Jersey he was joined by a delegation of the prominent democrats from all parts of the state.

SOME ADVERSE CRITICISM CARRIED TWO KNIVES COLONEL ROOSEVELT

Caused President to Halt Troops for Nicaragua

Woman Seeking Pres. Says Taft Will Get Only Six States

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Adverse critics of the state department's Central American policy during the closing hours of the last session of the senate with intimations that an American army would be sent to Nicaragua soon after congress adjourned are believed by some officials here to be the reasons which actuated President Taft in revoking the order sending the Tenth Infantry from the canal zone to Nicaragua.

All authorities on international law in the state, war and navy departments are practically agreed that there is no technical difference between the khaki clad soldier and the marine or bluejacket when employed as a landing force in a foreign country. But there is a public sentiment which is invariably associated the landing of soldiers with actual warfare and a permanency of purpose. On the other hand marines and bluejackets are so frequently called upon for the most temporary and exigent service as to excite little comment from a military point of view. It is said at the state department the only effect of the president's action of last night will be to slightly retard the assembly of a sufficient American force in Nicaragua to insure the maintenance of communication between the American legation in Managua and the warships at Corinto.

It is believed that American interests or lives will be in great danger for the next two or three days especially as knowledge of the presence of the United States to the any unnecessary amount of force to accomplish the purposes announced by Major General Wenzel is fully known to the rebel leaders.

JOHN WANAMAKER ILL

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—John Wanamaker, merchant and former postmaster general, is reported to be seriously ill at his son's home in Atlantic City. One story is to the effect that he underwent an operation recently for a bladder affection. The family is reticent and those in authority in Wanamaker's store press to know little about his condition. One department head stated that Wanamaker had been ill with a cold for two weeks and confined to his room, but was better. Positive denial was made of the operation story.

From another source it was learned that Wanamaker is suffering from a nervous breakdown and two weeks ago he was seriously ill. Since then his condition has improved and he was said to be "doing nicely" today. It is probably untrue that an operation was performed. When he became ill he went to the seashore cottage of his son, near Atlantic City.

INVESTIGATION CONTINUED

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—But one more witness was expected to be called when the Suffolk county grand jury met today to continue the investigation of the alleged conspiracy by Boston mill officials to discredit the labor unions of Lawrence by planting dynamite during the recent strike. This witness failed to appear at the court house yesterday and last night a police inspector was detailed to locate him.

John J. Breen, member of the Lawrence school board, who was fined $500 for his connection with the affair some time ago and several mill officials have given evidence before the grand jury.

According to John W. Pitman of Somerville, father of Ernest W. Pitman, the Andover mill contractor who took his own life following the recall of a summons to appear before the grand jury, the investigation now being conducted by Dist. Atty. Peiffer was taken up following a meeting between the two at a Boston hotel. During the course of the conversation Pitman, his father says, inadvertently told what he knew of the dynamite being found in Lawrence, believing the flimsy of Breen had closed the incident.

GOVERNOR MARSHALL IN MAINE

Governor Marshall of Indiana, candidate for vice president on the democratic ticket, has opened the campaign in dead earnest in the state of Maine. Marshall is a vigorous talker; he is well informed on all the political issues of the hour and he tears no antagonist. He made a great hit at Portland Monday night, his logic and his wit captivating the audience from the start. Above all Gov. Marshall is logical and convincing. Here is a sample of his discussion of the republican tariff:

"I have lived long enough to follow the changing reasons advanced for the high protective tariff. I have found them all to be shifty, uncertain and discreditable. First, it was to pay off the war debt by compelling the foreign manufacturer to contribute to the United States treasury. Then it was to foster our infant industries, then to protect American labor against the pauper labor of Europe; and, finally, in the last campaign, to equalize the cost of production at home and abroad. At last the truth was made that the government proposed to take its manufacturers into partnership with it, and that this partnership was proposed to sell to the consumers of this country all the necessities of life except those grown upon the farms, for the benefit of the government, but for the benefit of the manufacturer."

I myself have never been able to determine what system of business or ethics should induce a government to form a partnership with a man who made the cloth that is in my coat while totally refusing to form a partnership with me who buys the coat and wears it. It is not the business of government to form a partnership with anyone unless it forms a partnership with all."

He showed that the new rise of the republican party, "Scientific investigation," must fail as it is impossible for any expert to determine accurately the cost of production of any article in the state. He may find it in one or more factories individually; but he cannot find the exact cost in the state, so great is the variation when the various elements of power, light, fuel, water, taxes, labor, raw material, freight rates and marketing are considered. He dealt with the relentless cruelty to the consumer revealed in the fact that the manufactured products of our highly protected factories are sold more cheaply abroad than at home, showing that the special favors granted by the government do not redound to our advantage. Thus the protected manufacturer instead of allowing the consumer to benefit by the tariff makes him pay it while selling to the foreign market at prices less the tariff. It is estimated as Governor Marshall demonstrated that every man, woman and child in this country is paying $100 a year tribute to the manufacturers of the protected industries. The country needs enlightenment on the issues of the campaign such as Governor Marshall is giving. His work in Maine will doubtless bear good fruit and after the victory in this state is made secure he will make a tour of the doubtful states. Governor Marshall deals with the issues of the campaign in a plain and forcible way that always carries conviction. Such speeches as he is delivering in Maine will do a vast amount of good in exposing the fallacy of excessive protection and the enormous burdens it heaps upon the shoulders of the people.

SUNDAY IN POSTOFFICE

It appears to be rather a case of intermeddling with matters of detail for congress to direct how the postoffices shall observe the Sabbath. The closing up of the general delivery and the stamp windows will prove a great inconvenience. The only Sunday delivery will be by special messenger under the fixed arrangement now in vogue. It is right that postal employees should have one day's rest in seven, but in order to do this it should not be necessary to suspend the operations of the postal system all over the country. It is understood that the postoffices will not be locked up so that those who have boxes can get whatever mail is addressed to them in that way. It does not seem right to hamper the mail service in this manner. With the increased appropriation of $12,300,000 it would seem that there should be employees enough to keep things moving all the time.

MORE TROUBLE FOR TURKEY

It looks as if the Turkish provinces of Bulgaria, Montenegro, Servia, Albania and Macedonia might achieve their independence if they make a concerted effort to cast off the Turkish yoke. These provinces have suffered so much from Turkish barbarity that they would be unworthy of freedom if they did not embrace the present opportunity to strike a blow at their oppressors. Turkey should be driven out of Europe and her power to oppress her Asiatic subjects should also be curtailed.

THE CANAL ISSUE

Frances, it seems, is determined to send the canal matter to the Hague tribunal. In this matter she represents the other powers of Europe, all of which are equally interested. A decision against the policy of this country in favoring the one-way trade would probably lead to the fortification of the canal.

Theodore Roosevelt persists in dodging the tariff question. Just now it appears that he is busy considering what he will say in reply to the Poros charges. He has already put Mr. Certeleyou in a bad position by producing a letter ordering him to return the Standard Oil contribution after Certeleyou had testified that he did not know such contributions were received.

The death of another child, killed by an auto at Revere, indicates recklessness either on the part of the drivers or those who have charge of the children. Three fatalities on the boulevard within a short time is quite alarming. Is nothing being done to protect the lives of the children who go there on excursions?

Still more and greater disaster would come to Lawrence if it should be found that there was a conspiracy to injure the strikers by planting dynamite or by using it to injure the strikers. The investigation now going on with a view to implicating prominent men in such a plot is somewhat alarming.

If the Salisbury beach commission waits much longer to seize the land people will begin to say that the commission is controlled by the syndicate owners. It is high time the commission would undertake the work for which it was appointed in the interests of the cottage owners.

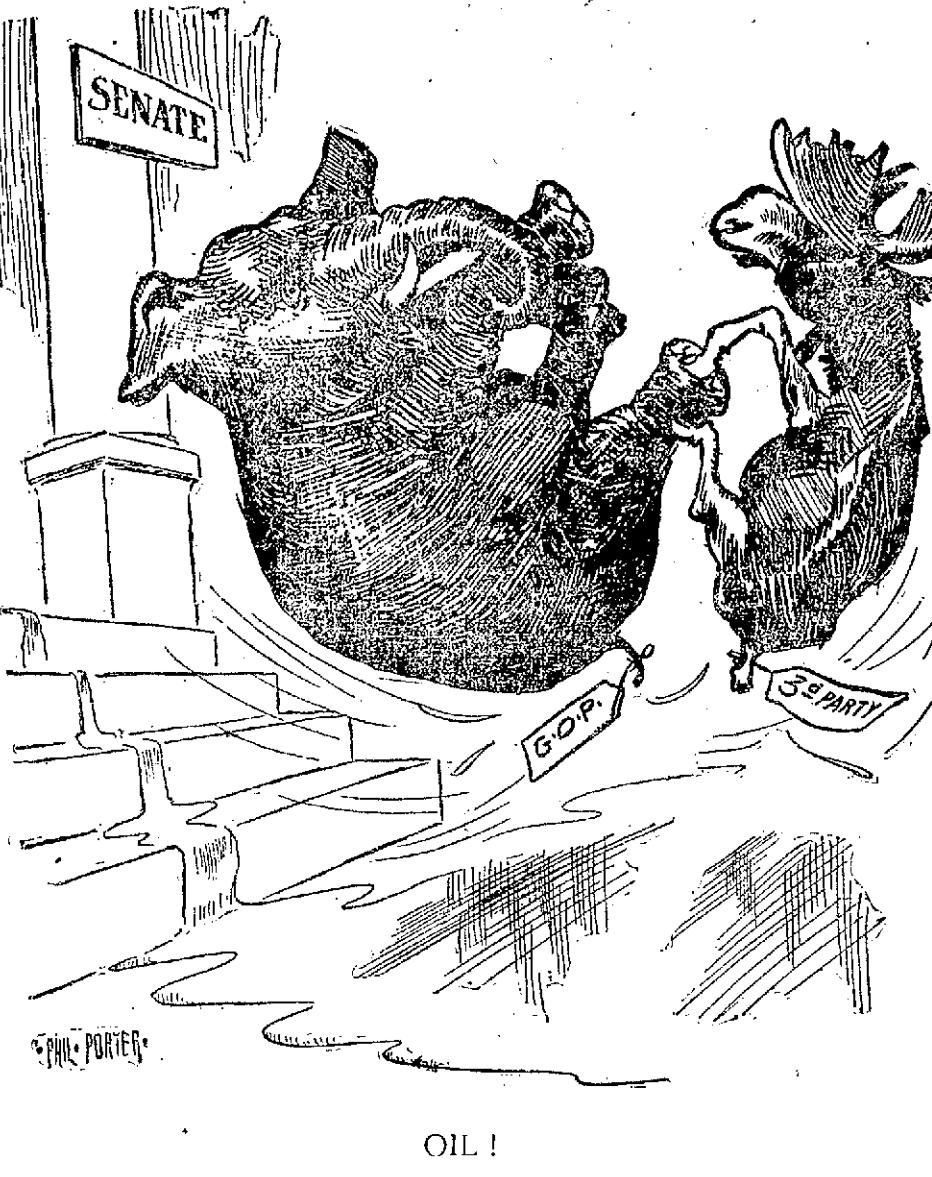

Parts of East Merrimack street are being dug up preparatory to being smooth paved. That street has been dug up often perhaps than any other street in Lowell. Let us hope that when the paving job is completed there will be an end of the digging up so common on that thoroughfare.

The county commissioners in their annual report give an account of their expenditures in great detail, but they give the receipts in lump sums without showing the source in a satisfactory manner. Why not give details in both cases?

Mr. Bryan has not yet indicated what part he will take in this campaign. It was confidently hoped he would go camping for the Bull Moose, but as yet he has not declared his intention of so doing.

The business men of Market street feel that it is about time the new bridge over the canal were completed. The delay is not only inconvenient but expensive.

The Gage Ice company need not feel alarmed over the production of ice tea.

Seen and Heard

It was the custom of the congregation to repeat the 23d Psalm in concert, and Mrs. Armstrong's notion of joining was to keep about a dozen words ahead all the way through.

A stranger was asking one day about Mrs. Armstrong. "Who?" he inquired.

"The lady who was already at the still water while the rest of us were lying down in green pastures?"

Life guards at a Jersey seaside resort fell with great glee of an incident that happened there last summer.

A German, with his boy of 10 years, was standing at the rail of one of the piers, quite at the end thereof, when suddenly the youngster toppled through into the water. As no life guard was out there at the time, a well-dressed young fellow on the pier, without waiting to divest himself of shoes or clothing, jumped in and after bathing with the waves for some minutes got the half drowned boy to the beach. In the meantime the father had hastened from the pier.

The parent, however, bore himself with great coolness.

WILSON AT FARMERS' RALLY

Interesting Talk on Way Government Has Been Managed

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa., Aug. 29.—Gov. Wilson in a speech at a farmers' rally here today talked of the farmers' share of prosperity with existing tariff laws.

He said in part:

"It is strange that we should have got so long looking into our government to see whether it is in fact according to the rules we originally laid down for it, but it is certain that we are now looking into it very sharply indeed and without the least anger that we shall be deceived again as to its character. Our idea of it has been from the first that it was genuine partnership and that all were upon one footing and were to share alike."

"But a very interesting thing has come to light. That is not in fact the way the government has been administered in our time. It has been in the hands of self-constituted trustees and the partners have seldom been allowed a real governing voice in its administration."

"We had supposed that we were conducting the national business along the lines laid down by Jefferson, but we find that as a matter of fact we have been conducting it along the lines laid down by Hamilton. Hamilton believed that the common run of men had little qualification for such business, that it could be really comprehended and wisely directed only by those who led in commercial and industrial enterprises and owned the chief bodies of property in the country. And in our time the leaders of the republican party have consciously or unconsciously adopted his notion."

"These men financed party campaigns and were always on the inside when party policy was to be determined. Tariff schedules, the foreign policy of the country; the chief expenditures of the government; everything went as they suggested; while the rank and file of us fared as we might and were happy if we had any small share in the prosperity which farmer in the world. The American they organized for themselves. They were the trustees, we were their wards and took part in the common life as they planned and directed. What went on in the trustee meetings we were very seldom allowed to learn—learned indeed only by impudent inquiry only by congressional investigations or trials in court, which the trustees complained sadly interfered with the regular course of business."

"Mr. Roosevelt has proclaimed himself a convert to the protective policy, I saw a convert because he at one time very frankly avowed a different opinion, and has said that while he admitted that, no doubt, some duties were too high and ought to be lowered by republican administrations, he had the right one; and he thought the 'prize money' which had been received under that system by the manufacturers of the country was legitimate booty."

"The analogy is a very interesting one. Prize money is generally acquired by capture and not by any process of earning, but Mr. Roosevelt is always ready and says that his only objection to the system is that too much of the prize money remains in the hands of the officers and too little of it is distributed to the crew. His own object he avows to be to see to it that more of the prize money gets into the pay envelopes of those whom the free-booters employ. The interesting point I wish to raise now is who supplies the plunder? from whom is the prize money taken?"

"The present democratic congress had the old-fashioned idea of government. They supposed that its benefits and protections were to be distributed and equally shared. It introduced and passed a bill which became known as the Farmers' free list bill. This bill put many indispensable things on the free list. Most prominent among them were agricultural implements. The American farmer pays more for his agricultural implements than any other farmer in the world. The American manufacturers who make agricultural implements sell them much cheaper on the other side of the water. On the other side they undersell the local manufacturers of agricultural implements, and prove by their eagerness for the foreign business and their rapid expansion of it that they can afford to do so even with the additional cost of the ocean freights. It was a very natural act on the part of the democratic congress, therefore, to put agricultural implements on the free list, to put fence wire also on the free list, and the bugging and ties, which the southern farmer needs and uses for his cotton. It added lumber and bats and shingles and leather and shoes and salt and meats, thinking not of the farmer alone, but of all of us who are struggling to live and pay our bills. But such changes did not comport with the ideas and plans of the trustees and the president vetoed the free list."

According to the information received by the police, the man, whose name was unknown at the time of the accident, boarded a Chelmsford Car and car and got into an argument with several passengers. When the car was nearing the entrance to the Chelmsford Street hospital the man stepped on the running board of the car and then jumped into the street, the car being in motion at the time.

The car was brought to a standstill and inasmuch as the man had suffered severe injuries the ambulance was summoned and he was removed to St. John's hospital. Shortly after arriving at the hospital he became unconscious and later died.

On Aug. 24th the body was identified as that of John Driscoll by Daniel Lane of West Billerica, the latter stating that Driscoll had been employed by him.

According to statements made to the police by the conductor in charge of the car and passengers, Driscoll had been drinking and was talking about Roosevelt and the new party when all of a sudden he left his seat and jumped from the moving car.

NEW YORK POLICE

SAID TO KNOW PRESENT WHEREABOUTS OF GUNMEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—District Attorney Whitman today tried to trace information that came to him that the whereabouts of the much wanted gunmen, Lefty Louis Rosenthal and Harry Horowitz, alias "Gym the Blood" was known to certain members of the police department who were aiding in concealing the gunmen.

Report has it that these two men will be kept in hiding until the trial of Police Lieut. Becker is well under way and that they will then be brought forward as witnesses for the defense to swear that Rosenthal was slain in a gamblers' den and that Rose, Webber and Valder themselves took part in the killing.

Counsel for the defense had nothing to say regarding the report, but it was learned that lawyers for Becker will endeavor to show that Rosenthal was killed in a gamblers' row and that the assassins sought to shift the responsibility for the killing on Becker.

UNKNOWN FATHER

PURSUES GIRL AND CAUSES HER ARREST

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 29.—On a warrant sworn out by her father, whom she never remembered seeing, Isolina Crocetti, a 15-year-old girl, of 30 Melvin Avenue, Lynn, was arrested yesterday afternoon, charged with being a stubborn child. The arrest came as a distinct surprise to the young girl, who did not even know that her father was living.

She told the police that the father, Angelo Crocetti, who is a resident of Salem, had deserted her mother in Italy when the daughter was but seven months old. He never returned to Italy. A few years ago the mother died and the girl came to America and lived with relatives in Lynn. The only explanation for the arrest, that she could give was that her father was probably anxious to show that he was still her legal guardian.

Relatives of the girl furnished bail for her.

SEN. SUTHERLAND

DENOUNCED THOSE WHO ATACK THE CONSTITUTION

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—Severe criticism of those who question the adequacy of the constitution and of those who seek to replace it with policies dictated by passing whims and fleeting emotions" was made by United States Senator George Sutherland of Utah, in an address before the American Bar Association last night.

Maintaining that the chief value of the constitution is "in its operation to prevent ill-considered and ill-advised action," Senator Sutherland denounced the plan for recall or judicial decisions which he said, in effect, would be "to render a judicial decision by a show of hands at the polls."

"It is becoming unashamed to speak well of the constitution," declared Senator Sutherland. "It is no longer respectable to profess the ancient faith in the learning and integrity of the courts. The good faith of the people themselves in seeking these changes is not in question, but we may doubt their wisdom in having sent a too ready ear to the demagogue whose strident voice has filled the land with his ill-considered and impractical theories."

A motion to urge President Taft and congress to increase the salaries of federal judges provoked heated debate and resulted in tabling the question.

A committee was appointed to ask congress "to empower the United States supreme court to prepare and put into effect a complete correlated system of pleading and procedure for the common law side of the federal courts, as is now being done for the equity side."

TWO JERSEY LADS

WILL GO WEST TO WED SAME GIRL

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Theodore Stiles, twenty-four years old, of Baldwin street, Fairview, and George Zilla, twenty-five, of No. 542 Smith street, Union hill, who room together and are employed by the Public Service railroad in Hackensack, are making preparations to go west to marry the same girl, both have proposed by mail and both have been accepted. Neither one believes that the other will be successful.

They have conducted a courtship by mail for six months, without knowing that the young woman was liable to become a bigamist. They have been inseparable comrades for years, and even now are on the best of terms. It is agreed that they will start for the girl's home together and let her decide. She lives in Totowa, N. J., but her name refuse to disclose. Each suitor has a photograph, kept and treasured above all things.

This romance began several months ago, when Zilla was eating eggs for breakfast one morning. The shell of one had a name and address upon it, and he copied it before breaking it open. He said nothing to his pal at the time, telling that such matters should be kept private. Not more than a couple of weeks later Stiles found an address upon an egg. Like his pal, he had been writing to an individual. Stiles wrote a letter and said nothing to Zilla.

By mail the two courtships progressed until the girl suggested exchange photographs. Both Stiles and Zilla agreed, and their photos went west without delay, in fact, from the notes that they have recently compared it is probable that the photo reached the young lad on the same day. She immediately sent her picture to both young men.

Both were charmed with the likeness. Finally two proposals were sent westward, and these two proposals brought forth letters of acceptance.

Then the two youths talked things over. They are too good friends to fight and realized that one of the other must lose. They agree to wait until both can get off for a leave of absence and put the whole matter in the hands of the girl. The loser is going to be the best man, it is decided. The only thing feared is that the lady may have a few more mail letters on hand and that one of them will get there first.

SHE WAS HIS ONLY

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Evelyn Godwin, whose address is carried as "unknown," yesterday said J. Lawrence Bogart, connected with the New York Engine company, at 125 Broadway, for $5000 damages.

She charges breach of a curious contract alleged to have been entered into by herself and Bogart in December, 1906. By its terms she agreed never to marry any man unless it be Bogart, and also agreed to give up the business in which she was then engaged and not to engage in business.

In return, she declares, Bogart bound himself to make her comfortable during the rest of her life. He also agreed, she says, to "make just provision for her after his death" if she survived him.

In October of last year, she alleges, Bogart left her. He did not intend to carry out the provisions of the contract any longer.

Mr. Bogart said yesterday: "I'm the man named as defendant, but I don't care to discuss the case."

KILLED IN ELEVATOR

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—William McSherry, an elevator operator in the New Vanderbilt hotel, was found fatally injured in his car at the 10th floor, yesterday afternoon. Although it is not known what accident occurred, the hotel people and police were unable to ascertain how the man was hurt. He was unconscious and died at 10 o'clock last night at Bellevue hospital.

Alex. Smith, a porter on the 11th floor, saw the car stopped there, and looking in saw McSherry lying on the floor. Failing to arouse him he telephoned the office and physicians were summoned.

They found McSherry had a broken left thigh, a compound fracture of the right elbow and internal injuries. A priest who was in the hotel administered the last rights of the church.

McSherry regained consciousness for a brief interval, but was in such pain that he was not asked what had occurred.

He came here from London, Eng., two months ago and had been employed in the Vanderbilt for the last three weeks. He had lived at 444 Ninth Avenue. His wife, Martha, was with him when he died.

CLARK JUMPS TO MAINE

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 29.—Speaker Clark arrived from Washington today to deliver a series of three speeches tonight and tomorrow in behalf of the democrats in the state election campaign which is nearing the close of its next to the last week. Speaker Clark will confine tonight's address at Rockland to a discussion of the tariff.

NOTICE

ALLAYS THE PAIN. COURES WITH GREAT SPEED THE best remedy for DIARRHOEA. It is absolutely harmless. Be sure and ask for Miss Winetson's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

We put up and deliver all orders on the day received sented Edgar did not make a speech, but he looked the appreciation that he felt.

The folk dancing was a pretty feature of the exercises, the little tots neatly and cleanly dressed, dancing on the green. They formed a circle and in the centre of the circle was a piano. The youngsters seemed to enjoy it immensely and so did the spectators.

The display of fancy work was another interesting feature and the display table was loaded with sofa pillows, table mats, little dresses and other things. Women were heard to express their admiration for the work of the children and the display, as a whole, demonstrated the fact that the playground movement is a very worthy one.

Games were still in progress at the time of going to press and our mutual friend Jack Conroy was having the time of his life impinging a ball game between the Bantams and the South Common.

William McCabe captured first prize in the high jump for small boys with Bennett Myers a close second. In the high jump for the big boys, Dan Moriarity was first and Joe Foster second.

The games were not as exciting as last year when playground met playground on the South common but there was enthusiasm enough to make it interesting.

There were at least three ball games in session at one and the same time, and if you happened to wander into

E. J. Schulte was the starter of the games, and he was assisted by S. Curtis Garret. Martin F. McCarthy was the judge and the judges were Joseph L. Crowe, Thomas J. Whelton and James Cusack.

The boys contests on the Aiken street grounds resulted as follows: 100-yard dash for large boys: Emile Goyette, first, catchers' glove; Ossie Allard, second, jackknife; Joseph Thibault, third, jackknife. 50-yard dash for large boys: Joseph Thibault, first, cuff links; Alfred Sonecy, second, jackknife, and Edmund Lambert, third, ball.

Three-legged race: Ossie Allard and Emile Goyette, first, Jack knives, and Arthur Ducharine and Arthur Lessage, second, each a ball.

100-yard dash for small boys: Emile Sander, first, Jack knife; Joseph Chandron, second, ball; and Alfred Rondeau, third, harmonica.

Hand race: Edmund Lessard, first boy's cap; Emile Goyette, second, ball, and Arthur Lessage, third, jackknife.

Three-legged race for small boys: Ossie Sander, first, each a Jack knife, and Alphonse Guindon and Arthur Desjardins, second, each a pair of cuff links.

Marathon for all: Joe Thibault, first, baseball glove; and Lambert, second, baseball cap; and Alfred Sonecy, third, 50-cent ball.

100-yard race: Beaury, first, baseball glove; Edmund Lambert, second, fancy handkerchief; and James Lamps, third, fancy handkerchief.

The relay race was won by the Young Eagles team.

Events at Greenhalge School

The exhibition of boys work was conducted by James H. Rooney, a former supervisor, in the absence of Mr. Ezeletti, who left to take another position about a week ago. The janitors, John Barrett and David Corrigan, have also helped handle the boys during the season. The first events were the ball games, both of them hotly contested, between the Red Eagles and the Whitehairs and the Chippers versus the Bostonians. In the latter game, especially, these little French boys showed that they knew the fine points of baseball.

The first race, a 100 yards dash, entered into by seven of the littles, was won by Kelley; Whalen, second, and Higgins, third.

The second race, 100-yard dash for the larger boys, was won by McSweeney; Lathey, second, and Santver, third.

The relay race for small boys was won by the following team: Burke, McGrail, Twohey and Mullarkey. That for the larger boys was won by Barrett, O'Brien, Thompson and Hart.

The mile run was won by Rowe, first; Mullarkey, second.

High jump: St. Clair, first; McKenna, second; and Mulvey third for second place.

There were over 50 prizes.

MAY INSIST UPON ARBITRATION LOSS IS ESTIMATED AT $200,000

England Not Inclined to Drop the Canal Question

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Great Britain has reaffirmed its protest against the Panama canal bill.

In a note sent yesterday to the state department by A. Mitchell Innes, charge of the British embassy here, it was stated that if a satisfactory agreement could not be reached Great Britain would appeal to the Hague tribunal for arbitration.

The note submitted yesterday says Great Britain will give careful consideration to both the bill and the message President Taft sent to congress relating to discrimination in favor of American consignments in the canal. If, after due consideration it is found that no satisfactory agreement can be reached in the matter Great Britain declares that it will be necessary to appeal to arbitration.

Mr. Innes, who has been acting as charge of the embassy during the absence of Ambassador Bryce, came to Washington recently from the summer headquarters of the British embassy at Kino, Me., to remain during the discussion in congress of the bill, and to file for his government the protest against it.

Mr. Innes was instructed by his government late yesterday to file the protest, and sent it to the state department before noon yesterday. It is a brief note stating merely that Great Britain still stands in her previously explained attitude in regard to the Panama bill. The tone of the note makes it appear that Great Britain believes it will be necessary to submit the question to arbitration.

One state department official yesterday said that he did not believe Great Britain had a case to carry before The Hague tribunal. Messrs. Root, Lodge and other senators are on record as declaring that the United States would certainly lose should the case be referred to The Hague.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR GENERAL BOOTH

A Mammoth Meeting of Prayer and Praise

HELD AT BIER OF DEAD LEADER

Thirty-four Thousand Join in Final Rally

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Funeral services over the founder of the Salvation Army, Gen. William Booth, were held at the Olympia last night in accordance with the traditions of that organization, without pomp or symbols of mourning, but with a most moving fervor and impressiveness.

Thirty-four thousand people participated in the service. Nearly half of them were the blue coats and red jerseys, or bennets, with red ribbon, familiar on the streets of cities in several nations.

The body of the late general, in a plain coffin, rested high upon a white catafalque before the big platform across the end of the hall, where all the chief officers of the organization were seated and where 40 bands were massed.

The crimson flag of the army "of fire and blood," which the general unfurled on Mount Calvary, was planted above the coffin. A bank of flowers, composed of the tributes sent by members of royalty and many societies, was behind it. Flags of various nations in which the commander-in-chief had waged campaigns and the standards of the older divisions of the army were arrayed before the platform.

These and more Salvation Army flags in the galleries, each tipped with white ribbons and portraits of the evangelist, surrounded with green laurel wreaths, with a broad orange ribbon connecting them, were the only decorations.

The iron rows of chairs before the coffin were filled with representatives of various bodies, with the quarry for the king, several mayors in their robes and chains of office, a delegation from the stock exchange, ministers and clergymen of all the Protestant churches and Jewish rabbis and many notable personages seated throughout the house, but the rank and file of the great gathering was composed of the plain people, for whom the army works.

The service itself was not only a memorial but also a mammoth meeting of prayer and praise. No other congregation in London, if in the world, save the funeral of the general's wife, held in the same hall 22 years ago, this coming October.

The most solemn moments of the long meeting were when the coffin was borne along the centre of the hall to the sombre music of the dead march in "Saul." A small procession representing many branches of the army's activities, including men and women, and a detachment of officers from the foreign branches, carrying the flags of their respective countries, preceded it.

Immediately before the body, a bugler bore aloft the crimson flag which the general raised at Jersusalem, and under which he died at Hulleywood.

Following it marched the officers from Sweden, Germany, America, Switzerland, Canada, France, Denmark, Norway, India and Australia.

Then came the new general, Bramwell Booth, with his wife, each wearing the uniform of a commissioner; Mrs. Booth-Hellberg, and the grandchildren of the late Salvationist Adjutant, Catherine Booth, Capt. Mary Booth, Capt. Millicent Booth, Cadet Sergeant Bernard Booth and Cadet M. Booth-Tucker.

The coffin was covered with a flag, and on it rested the general's bible and the sword, during which time the immense audience remained standing and all the Salvationists were at salute.

A great gathering of members of the Salvation Army assembled from all parts of the United Kingdom and from many foreign countries in the vicinity of the Salvation Army headquarters at an early hour this morning.

The rain poured down from daybreak but when the procession was about to start the skies cleared. The thousands who had stood for hours in the rain were undismayed by the long march before them to the cemetery.

The bier was decorated only with dry palms placed over the "Blood and Fire" banner draping the casket. The decorated bier had which the general had planted on Calvary was placed at the head of the coffin and on this was done the flag of the foreign delegations and of the English provincial corps draped in the salient.

At the same time the vast crowd, recently uncovered, their heads then the general's campaign cap and favorite biret were laid on the platform of the funeral car.

The scene was a most impressive one as the delegates from the provinces and abroad, stepping slowly to the solemn strains of the "Dead March of Saul" played by 40 bands marched by the funeral car and came to the fall salute as they passed the coffin.

A guard of honor, composed of the chief local and foreign officers of the Salvation Army stood at attention round the bier. Many of those present wept as they saluted their dead leader.

Numbers of those in the procession were not in uniforms but bore white sleeve bands with a red cross and there was a striking absence of the usual trappings of mourning.

Leading the bier when the procession started was a carriage filled with splendid gold tokens sent by dignitaries and distinguished friends of the late general. Immediately after the bier was a selected bodyguard of staff officers of the Salvation Army, the mourners of the family, who were led by General and Mrs. Bramwell Booth.

Then came 40 brigades or members of the army and these were followed by a rear guard composed of officers from the international headquarters and the emeritus staff.

The procession was more than a mile in length and many of those composing it carried Salvation Army banners.

Most strikingly, the procession marched through a part of the city where the work of the Salvation Army is best known and there in front of houses stood many poor women and children who had at some time or other received benefit of the army's operations.

GOVERNOR PLAISTED OF MAINE

Declares He is Committed to Woodrow Wilson for President

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 29.—With pitiful persistency, Gov. Frederick W. Plaisted reiterates the question to his Republican opponent, William T. Haines, "Are you for Taft or for Roosevelt?"

Last night, joining Gov. Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana at a rally here, Maine's executive declared he was committed to Woodrow Wilson for president, and remarked that he had been unable to ascertain whether the meeting held here recently with Mr. Haines addressed was in the interest of Taft and Haines or Roosevelt and Haines.

Inasmuch as last night's audience had last week observed Candidate Haines sedulously avoid a disclosure of his presidential preference, the gathering was disposed to enjoy the humor of the allusion to the Republican candidate's embarrassment.

This query, which Mr. Haines is ignoring, has become one of the texts of the campaign, and many an argument in Mr. Haines' favor is turned into a joke by a reference to the candidate's silence on the issue that has divided his party.

Feeling among Republicans as between President Taft and Col. Roosevelt runs high, and it is a serious question whether Mr. Haines is not by his silence increasing the number of those who proposed to remain away from the polls on Sept. 3.

The gravest apprehension of the managers of the republican campaign is that differences of opinion with respect to the Chicago convention will keep hundreds of Republican voters at home on election day. The disqualification of the candidate to express a preference, and the consequent ridicule of his attitude by the democratic speakers, is obviously having an adverse effect to his interests.

Plaisted Defines Position

Last night the democratic governor hardly had to make reply to the serious arguments by Mr. Haines before a similar audience last week once he had started the laugh by inquiring whether his opponent was for the president or the colonel.

Mr. Haines spoke to a large gathering here last week, greater in numbers than that assembled tonight to hear Gov. Plaisted and Gov. Marshall, although there were no vacant seats in city hall last evening. But on the occasion the republican nominee for governor avoided two subjects which the democratic candidate frankly discussed last evening, the national ticket of his party and prohibition.

Mr. Haines did not say whether he favored prohibition, local option or any other means of dealing with the liquor problem, although of all the cities in the state, Bangor has a vital interest in the attitude of a gubernatorial candidate with respect to the issue of prohibition.

Gov. Plaisted last night asserted himself in accord with the proposition of his party for local option in the cities and prohibition for the towns. Thus, the democratic candidate gave his audience full information as to his views, when Mr. Haines lost an opportunity to define his position to a gathering which was inclined to view him favorably.

It was demonstrated again last evening that the voters of Maine do wish to hear national issues discussed, and this was exemplified in the attention and applause given to Gov. Marshall. Gov. Marshall departed from his sermon on old fashioned democracy and urged radical reform of the legal profession. The governor indicated and convicted members of his own profession for violation and criminal evasion of law and much of the criticism of the courts he believed should lie against the unscrupulous practice of lawyers rather than the conduct of judges.

Guernsey's Dilemma

It is well that the democrat brought Gov. Marshall to Bangor, for in this section of the state Mr. T. Haines is apparently stronger among republican voters than in other parts of Maine. The republican candidate has had scant attention in recent years from Penobscot county, but Mr. Haines has drawn large audiences wherever he has appeared in this county.

His attitude with respect to prohibition has been understood to be a willingness to permit nullification, which is the Bangor idea of satisfactory statutory prohibition, and the chief disqualification has been his neglect to confirm this understanding by a plain mint.

The other races will be a 3-year-old race, with a dozen starters, and the 200 pacers. The summary:

MARRIED ONE MAN AND LOVED ANOTHER

Katrino Melcho the Cause of
Exciting Time at Middlesex
Street Station Today

Nestor Corambelis and Argeris Georgiou, each claiming Katrino Melcho as his wife, created quite a sensation at the Middlesex street station this morning, when the two latter stepped off the Fall River train at the station. Patrolman William O'Brien was attracted to the scene and while he was inquiring into the cause of the trouble Sergeant Hugh McGuire put in an appearance and it was decided to take the trio to the police station to explain the difficulty. Later the matter was referred to the clerk of the police court and after considerable questioning with the assistance of interpreters it was practically decided that it was a matter for the immigration officers and not the police to iron out.

Corambelis intimated that he did not care for his wife any more and that if she wanted to go with Georgiou she could, stating that all he wanted was to secure enough of evidence in order to secure a divorce.

In the stories as told by the different parties, the two Georgiou and woman can be returned to Greece by the immigration authorities inasmuch as the woman must have sworn to the authorities that Georgiou was either his brother or husband in order to be allowed to land in this country, and by making either statement she Georgiou could be returned for deserting his wife.

The police feel that there is no violation of the law on the part of Georgiou and the woman which comes within its jurisdiction and unless the immigration authorities take an interest in the matter there will be no disclosure but at an election of officers Edward McKeever was made vice president.

Shortly after Corambelis came to this country Georgiou fell in love with the woman, and inasmuch as she returned the love they met frequently despite the fact that Georgiou had a wife and child living in Greece.

A few weeks ago Georgiou deserted his wife and child and with the Melcho woman secured passage to this country and arrived in New York last night.

READVILLE RACES

Chatty Direct in 2:07 1/2. He won at Cleveland in 2:05 1/2, 2:07 1/2, 2:09 1/2. Over the Pittsburgh track he was lucky to get second money in a fourheat race, won by Oakdale, as The Wanderer, winner of the first heat, was instance.

Going to Fort Erie he won again from Esther W. in the fastest and hardest fought stake race of the season, taking a record of 2:08 1/2. Last week he was first at Rockingham.

Esther W. has won $10,000 in six races. After being beaten at Grand Chene, she won at Kalamazoo in the $10,000 race in which Baden failed to save his entrance. She hundred a class race at Detroit and the Tavern "steak" at Cleveland.

Pittsburgh was an idle week for her. Second money fell to her at Fort Erie, where she was just nosed out by Baden in 2:05 1/2. Last week at Salem she would not try in the soft footing. When she has one of her good days it takes a very fast, game trotter to bother her.

Layoff for Oakdale

The gray trotter, Oakdale, won the same purse at Pittsburgh, taking a record of 2:02 1/2, and beating Baden. He was in that touch race at Fort Erie and puffed down the fourth heat.

Dorsh Medium is the mare that was a factor in the M. & M. without getting inside of the money. She has been getting some of the money ever since and Georgiou claims her as having a chance in any race where they have to go more than three beats. She and Annie Kohl had a heart breaking battle at Fort Erie which she won.

Annie Kohl is something on the order of Esther W., as when she has one of her trotting days it takes a really high class horse to handle her. She has beaten 1:38 twice on different tracks and over Readville has worked in 2:06 1/2.

Some Dangerous Factors

Dorothy Boy is a dangerous trotter always. He has won only a single race, but has finished second more times this summer than any other horse on the circuit. Marigold, Murphy's selection, has run disappointingly up to date, as she has won only a heat or two, although a factor in every start.

Not in many years and only twice or three times in the history of the event has the Massachusetts had such a well matched field. Horse racing is "mighty unartin," and some horse may romp off with first money without much of a contest, but such a thing looks very doubtful.

SOME ADVERSE CRITICISM CARRIED TWO KNIVES COLONEL ROOSEVELT

Caused President to Halt
Troops for Nicaragua

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Adverse critics of the state department's Central American policy during the closing hours of the last session of the senate with intimations that an American army would be sent to Nicaragua soon after Congress adjourned are believed by some officials here to be the reasons which actuated President Taft in revoking the order sending the Tenth infantry from the canal zone to Nicaragua.

All authorities on international law in the state, war and navy departments are practically agreed that there is no technical difference between the khaki clad soldier and the marine or bluejacket when employed as a landing force in a foreign country. But there is a public sentiment which invariably associates the landing of soldiers with actual warfare and a permanency of purpose. On the other hand marines and bluejackets are so frequently called upon for the most temporary and exigent service as to excite little comment from a military point of view. It is said at the state department the only effect of the president's action of last night will be to slightly retard the assembly of a sufficient American force in Nicaragua to insure the maintenance of communications between the American legation in Managua and the warships at Corinto.

It is not believed that American interests or lives will be in great danger for the next two or three days especially as knowledge of the purpose of the United States to use any unnecessary amount of force to accomplish the purposes announced by Minister Wentzel is fully known to the rebel leaders.

Woman Seeking Pres.
Says Taft Will Get Only
Taft Was Arrested

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 29.—Caroline Beers, aged 40, who said she was from Greenville, O., was arrested by Pittsburgh detectives at the Southern hotel while waiting for President Taft with two long knives found concealed in her clothing. The woman said she was the wife of the president.

Mrs. Beers said she was going to punish the president. She had been noticed waiting around the hotel and told the employees that she was waiting for the president.

"I have the sacred knife for President Taft," she told a detective when arrested.

The woman did not get near the president, but was found and rushed out of the hotel just as the presidential party had arrived. She was found on one of the upper floors waiting near the elevator on which it was expected the president would go to his apartments.

One of the knives which was found in her clothing was a long, keen blade affair on the handle of which a picture of President Taft had been photographed. Mrs. Beers was well clad. A roll of $200 was found in her clothing.

JOHN WANAMAKER ILL

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—John Wanamaker, merchant and former postmaster general, is reported to be seriously ill at his son's home in Atlantic City. One story is to the effect that he underwent an operation recently for a bladder affection. The family is reticent and these in authority in Wanamaker's store refuse to know little about his condition. One department head stated that Wanamaker had been ill with a cold for two weeks and confined to his room, but was better. Positive denial was made of the operation story.

From another source it was learned that Wanamaker is suffering from a nervous breakdown and two weeks ago was seriously ill. Since then his condition has improved and he was said to be "doing nicely" today. It is probably untrue that an operation was performed. When he became ill he went to the seashore cottage of his son, near Atlantic City.

INVESTIGATION CONTINUED

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—But one more witness was expected to be called when the Suffolk county grand jury met today to continue the investigation of the alleged conspiracy by Boston mill officials to discredit the labor unions of Lawrence by planting dynamite during the recent strike. This witness failed to appear at the court house yesterday and last night a police inspector was detailed to locate him.

John J. Breen, member of the Lawrence school board, who was fined $500 for his connection with the strike some time ago and several mill officials have given evidence before the grand jury.

According to John W. Pitman of Somerville, father of Ernest W. Pitman, the Andover mill contractor who took his own life following the receipt of a summons to appear before the grand jury, the investigation now being conducted by Dist. Atg. Peterle was taken up following a meeting between the two at a Boston hotel. During the course of the conversation Pitman, his father says, inadvertently told what he knew of the dynamite being found in Lawrence, believing the finding of Breen had closed the incident.

ROBERTSON LED IN GOLF

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Alce Robertson of Rock Island led the field in the two rounds of play in the first day of the western open golf championship at Edgewood club yesterday with 147 for the 36 holes. Robert Simpson of Kenosha, Wis., present title holder, turned in 175.

Following are the leaders as they stood last night:

Alce Robertson, Rock Island, 147; M. Smith, Indianapolis, 149; G. Simpson, Wichita, 152; T. McNamee, Boston, 152; J. McNeer, Atlantic City, 153; C. Nichols, Wilmington, 154; J. Clark, Westgate Hotel, H. H. Harris, Louisville, 154; A. Donaldson, Glen View, 155; Walter Favaraz, Shoshone, 156; A. Smith, Wichita, 157; J. Gartrell, 158; H. Bishop, 159; H. Simpson, Wichita, 160; J. Parks, Hutchinson, 160; J. J. McNamee, N. J., 160; L. P. Purcell, Belmont, 161; J. Hutchinson, Pittsburgh, 162; G. C. Nell, Everett, 163; J. Pungello, Pittsburgh, 164; D. L. George, Minneapolis, 165.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Lydia Tanswell, 40, widow of a prominent business man of Maine, Boston, N. H., was brought to this city last night from Toronto, Canada, where she was arrested charged with the larceny of $200 worth of jewelry from the Smith Park Inn company here.

Mrs. Tanswell, who she had come to Canada, waived her extradition rights and came to this city in the custody of Inspector Conroy who went to Toronto Sunday.

Mrs. Tanswell, whose husband passed away in the winter of the latter part of July and obtained some worth of jewelry. She then returned to Canada, the first week of August and received $2250 worth of jewelry upon remittance, stating it is alleged she wanted the jewelry for a rich customer she had on a large farm in Balaclava, N. Y.

It is charged Mrs. Tanswell did not pay for the goods, refused to return them, and stated they were in her customer's possession.

GOVERNOR MARSHALL IN MAINE

Governor Marshall of Indiana, candidate for vice president on the democratic ticket, has opened the campaign in dead earnest in the state of Maine. Marshall is a vigorous talker; he is well informed on all the political issues of the hour and his logic and his wit captivating the audience from the start. Above all Gov. Marshall is logical and convincing. Here is a sample of his discussion of the republican tariff:

"I have lived long enough to follow the changing reasons advanced for the high protective tariff. I have found them all to be shifty, uncertain and dishonest. First, it was to pay off the war debt by compelling the foreign manufacturer to contribute to the United States treasury; then it was to foster our infant industries; then to protect American labor against the pauper labor of Europe; and, finally, in the last instance, to equalize the cost of production at home and abroad. At last the last statement was made that the government proposed to take the manufacturers into partnership with it, and that this partnership was promising to sell to the consumers of this country all the necessities of life except those given up by the taxes, not for the benefit of the government, but for the credit of the manufacturer."

"I myself have never been able to determine what system of business practices should cause a government to form a partnership with a man who makes the cloth that is in my coat while totally refusing to form a partnership with me who buys the coat and wears it. It is not the business of government to form a partnership with anyone unless it forms a partnership with all."

He showed that the new rule of the republican party, "scientific investigation," must fail as it is impossible for any expert to determine accurately the cost of production of any article in the state. He may find it in one or more factories' individuality; but he cannot find the exact cost in the state, so great is the variation when the various elements of power, light, fuel, water, taxes, labor, raw material, freight rates and marketing are considered. He dealt with the relentless cruelty to the consumer revealed in the fact that the manufactured products of our highly protected factories are sold more cheaply abroad than at home, showing that the special favors granted by the government do not redound to our advantage. Thus the protected manufacturer instead of allowing the consumer to benefit by the tariff makes him pay it while selling to the foreign market at prices less the tariff. It is estimated as Governor Marshall demonstrated that every man, woman and child in this country is paying $100 a year tribute to the manufacturers of the protected industries. The country needs enlightenment on the issues of the campaign such as Governor Marshall is giving. His work in Maine will doubtless bear good fruit and after the victory in that state is made secure he will make a tour of the doubtful states. Governor Marshall deals with the issues of the campaign in a plain and forcible way that always carries conviction. Such speeches as he is delivering in Maine will do a vast amount of good in exposing the fallacy of excessive protection and the enormous burdens it heaps upon the shoulders of the people.

SUNDAY IN POSTOFFICE

It appears to be rather a case of intermeddling with matters of detail for congress to direct how the postoffices shall observe the Sabbath. The closing up of the general delivery and the stamp windows will prove a great inconvenience. The only Sunday delivery will be by special messenger under the fixed arrangement now in vogue. It is right that postal employees should have one day's rest in seven, but in order to do this it should not be necessary to suspend the operations of the postal system all over the country. It is understood that the postoffices will not be locked up so that those who have boxes can get whatever mail is addressed to them in that way. It does not seem right to hamper the mail service in this manner. With the increased appropriation of $12,300,000 it would seem that there should be employees enough to keep things moving all the time.

MORE TROUBLE FOR TURKEY

It looks as if the Turkish provinces of Bulgaria, Montenegro, Serbia, Albania and Macedonia might achieve their independence if they make a concerted effort to cast off the Turkish yoke. These provinces have suffered so much from Turkish barbarity that they would be unworthy of freedom if they did not embrace the present opportunity to strike a blow at their oppressors. Turkey should be driven out of Europe and her power to oppress her Asiatic subjects should also be curtailed.

THE CANAL ISSUE

England, it seems, is determined to send the canal matter to The Hague tribunal. In this matter she represents the other powers of Europe, all of which are equally interested. A decision against the policy of this country in favoring the east-west trade would probably lead to the rectification of the canal.

Theodore Roosevelt persists in dodging the tariff question. Just now it appears that he is busy considering what he will say in reply to the Penrose charges. He has already put Mr. Cortelyou in a bad position by producing a letter ordering him to return the Standard Oil contribution after Cortelyou had testified that he did not know such contributions were received.

The death of another child, killed by an auto at Revere, indicates recklessness either on the part of the drivers or those who have charge of the children. Three fatalities on the boulevard within a short time is quite alarming. It is time something were done to protect the lives of the children who go there on excursions.

Still more and greater disgrace would come to Lawrence if it should be found that there was a conspiracy to injure the strikers by planting dynamite or by using it to injure the strikers. The investigation now going on with a view to implicating prominent men in such a plot is somewhat alarming.

If the Sandusky bench commission waits much longer to seize the land people will begin to say that the commission is controlled by the syndicate owners. It is high time the commission would undertake the work for which it was appointed on the interests of the cottage owners.

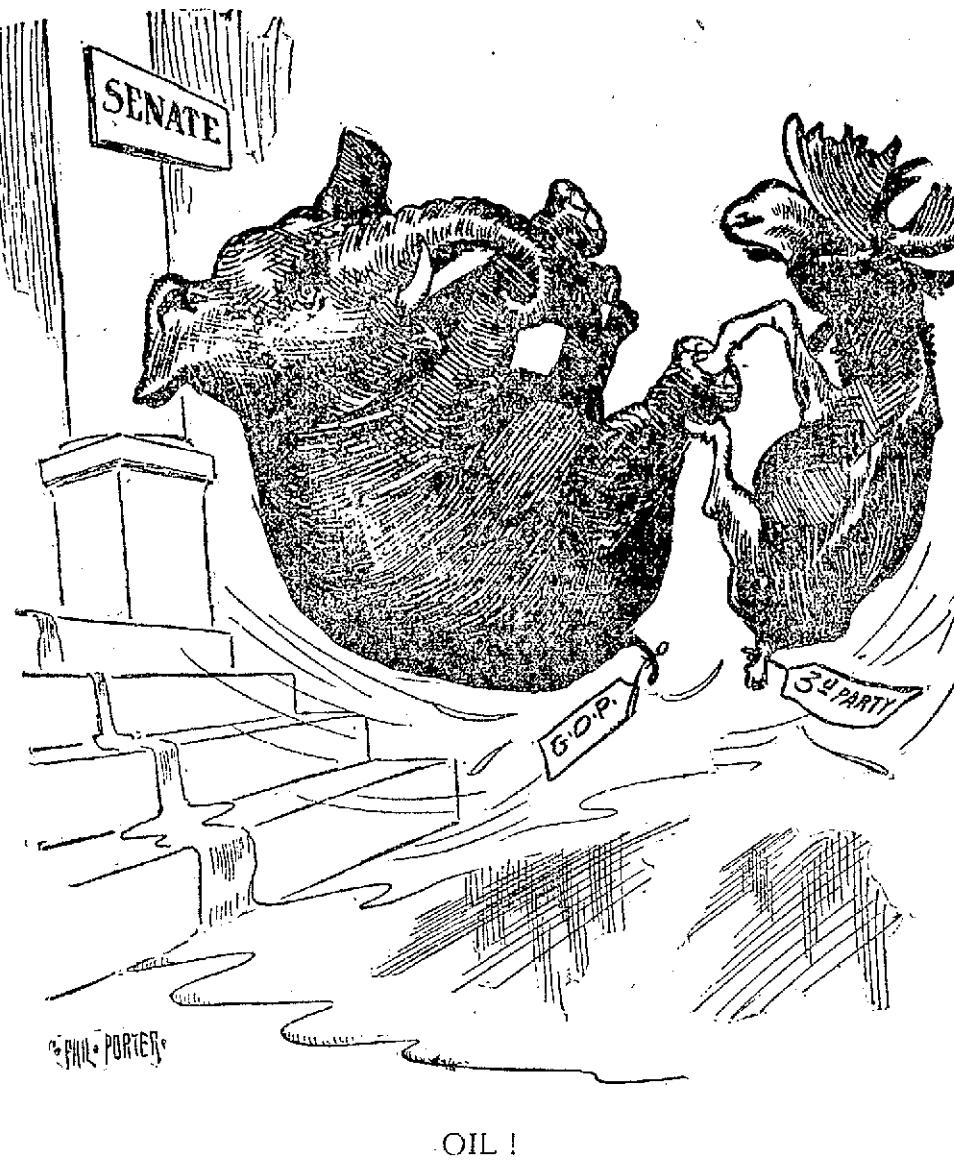

Parts of East Merrimack street are being dug up preparatory to being smooth paved. That street has been dug up oftener perhaps than any other street in Lowell. Let us hope that when the paving job is completed there will be an end to the digging up so common on that thoroughfare.

The county court reports in their annual report give an account of their expenditures in great detail, but they give the receipts in lump sums without showing the source in a satisfactory manner. Why not give details in both cases?

Mr. Bryan has not yet indicated what part he will take in this campaign. It was confidently hoped he would go gunging for the Bull Moose, but as yet he has not declared his intention of so doing.

The business men of Market street feel that it is about time the new bridge over the canal were completed. The delay is not only inconvenient but expensive.

The large ice company need not feel alarmed over the production of ice.

Seen and Heard

It was the custom of the congregation to repeat the 23d Psalm in concert, and Mrs. Armstrong's notion of joining was to keep about a dozen words ahead all the way through.

A stranger was asking one day about Mrs. Armstrong. "Who?" he inquired, "was the lady who was always by the still water while the rest of us were lying down in green pastures?"

HOMESICK

Homesick ain't like the other sick. You just ain't got the hump. And don't you stir the drug stores mix. Or have things that aint round your head. When your ma say wash your face. And use the silver brush an' comb. To comb you up she fill a vase With flowers, cause you're sick at home.

Homesick ain't med'cine sick at all. It ain't a sick like summick aches. At make you double up an' bowl. An' say you didn't eat th' cake. Until you're rounder than a toad. An' you can't confess an' your ma smile. An' say she got a joke on you. Because she know it all th' while.

Homesick ain't when they see your tongue. Or the pale, or your ears buzz. Or the lousy, how much you wish it would. Homesick is when you go away. A-vistin' all by yourself.

An' miss th' clock at ought to stay a-thinkin' on the mantel-shelf.

An' folks tell stories to you, too. An' try their best to make you laugh. The wind cries in th' chimney blue.

An' in th' barnyard is a calf. An' bawls an' bawls. An' worst part is all th' time how well you know. No matter how homesick you get. An' want to go home, you can't go.

ALMIRAL LOST HIS LIFE

S. A. Sims of Mason, Mich., will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciless storm. It gave me a dreadful cold, he writes, "that caused me to pass out in the chest, and I was forced to breathe with a neighbor who gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia, but he continued with the recovery. I ate six and two additional pounds of the cured meat." I am only the same safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by A. W. Dow & Co.

JOHN BARRETT TALKS

Discusses Panama Canal

Question

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—"While European countries are unanimous in expressing the belief that the Hay-Pauncefort treaty has been disregarded, they will not relax their efforts to make use of the Panama canal," said John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union, commenting on the passage of the recent Panama canal bill, as he stepped ashore from the Frankonia yesterday.

Mr. Barrett, who was formerly minister to Panama, Colombia and Argentina, has been abroad for the past two months making a study of what Great Britain and the continental countries are doing to get ready for the Panama canal and to develop their commerce with South America.

"The European countries," said Mr. Barrett, "will go ahead even under unfavorable conditions and trust to a new adjustment through either the Hacienda court or new legislation at the next session of congress."

"What I saw and learned prompts me to say every seaport of the United States, because of the vast interests it has at stake, must make every possible effort to improve its harbor facilities and expand its trade through the Panama canal and with South Central America if it would be ready to meet successfully European competition."

"Everywhere I was struck with the great sums of money expended and the preparations being made to get the largest benefits possible from seagoing commerce, not only with reference to the Panama canal but with all parts of the world."

BACK FROM ALASKA

FOND FATHER HASTENS TO SEE BABY BORN IN HIS ABSENCE

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—Prof.

Sebesch Parker of Brooklyn, and

Elmore Brown of Tacoma, who came within 300 feet of reaching the summit of Mount McKinley last June, returned today from Alaska.

Prof. Parker was greeted at the pier by Mrs. Parker, a bride of a little more than a year, who had come from Brooklyn to meet him.

He hastened to Tacoma to see his the first time his baby, born during his absence in Alaska.

Professor Parker and Mr. Brown

of Mount McKinley April 25. On their previous expedition they attempted to ascend the mountain from the south side but this time crossed the Alaska range about 20 miles east of Mount

McKinley. They went up Muldrow

Glacier, taking the route selected by Tom Lloyd and his party of explorers when they ascended the mountain in 1910.

At an altitude of ten thousand feet

the Parker-Brown party relayed their supplies with dog teams from the camp

below. After remaining at this altitude several days unable to proceed on account of a severe storm they decided to await more favorable conditions and dropped back to an altitude of 6,000 feet. They set out again June 5, going up the northeast ridge of Muldrow glazier. The route selected was narrow and hazardous and the ridge very steep but the explorers were able to reach an altitude of 11,000 feet before being driven back from the severe cold and blinding snow blown by a high gale from peak to peak.

On the third attempt an altitude of 20,100 feet was reached. There, with only three days' provisions left they were unable to withstand the terrible cold and gave up their hope of reaching the summit.
